Highland Park High School
Dallas, Texas
Volume 38

This is where . . .

the clan

... Through Scotland's Halls

Many kinds of people go into the making of a clan, and Highland Park High School is no exception.

Students, faculty, and administration all combine their efforts to make Highland Park the school that it is today.

The clan gathers everywhere—in the halls, auditorium, lunchroom, and especially in the classrooms.

When the clan gathers in the classrooms, it receives one of the best educations available.

One reason for Highland Park's superior scholastic standing is the spirit of cooperation between faculty and students.

This cooperation has helped Highland Park to become one of the top high schools in the nation. The halls, auditorium, and lunchroom serve as communication centers.

Here the clan discusses the latest school activities.

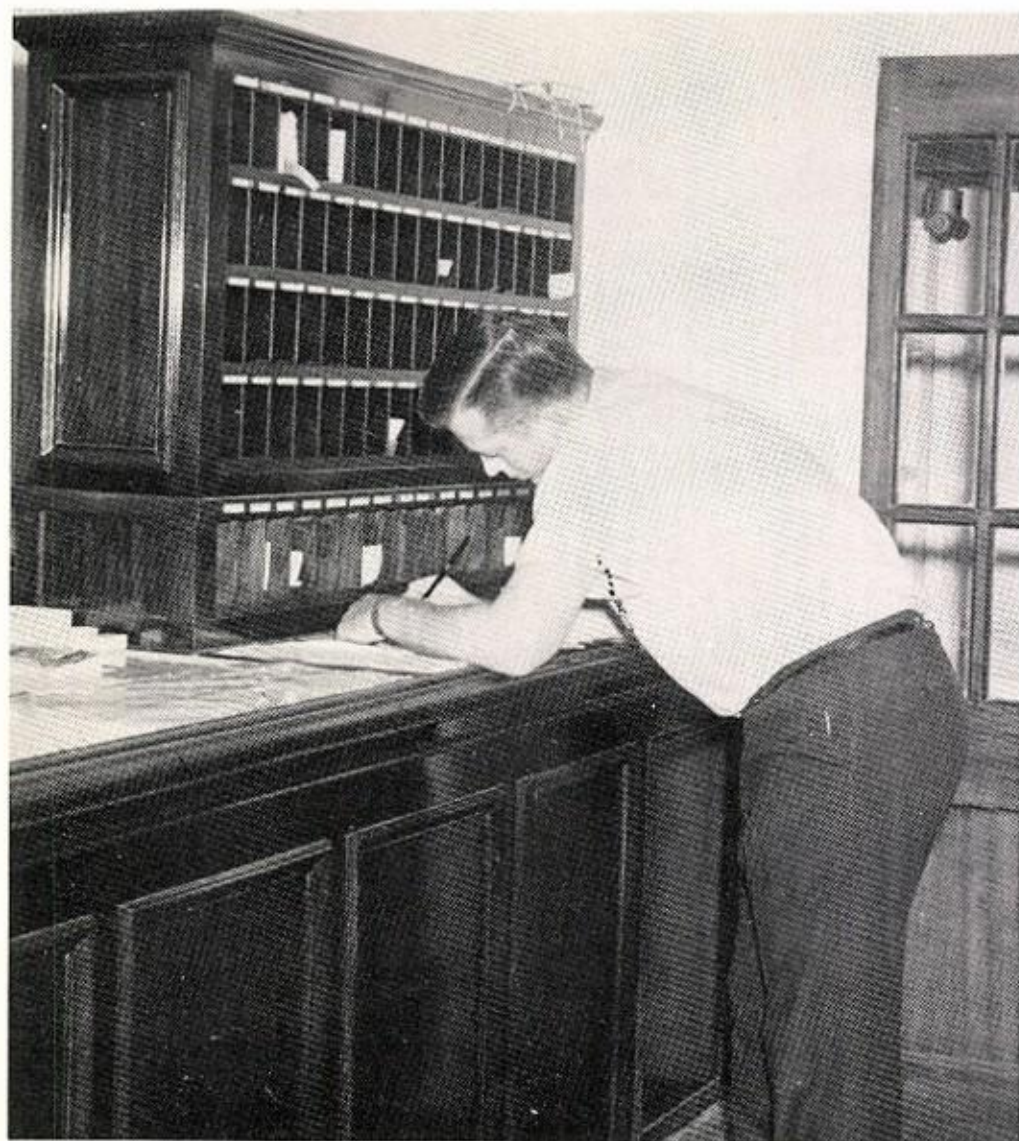

Wherever a Highland Park athletic team is performing, the clan gathers to spur it on to victory. The Scots are known for their outstanding spirit as well as good sportsmanship.

Spirit ties a clan together in Highland Park High School, as well as in Scotland.

This is the 1961 Highlander—

Diane Kirkpatrick serves Mr. Monroe and Mrs. Dyer at a tea for the foreign students.

Achievements as an outstanding superintendent and enthusiastic leader of school progress and spirit typify Highland Park's chief executive, Frank Monroe. Holding the office of President of the Texas Association of School Administrators has been one of Mr. Monroe's accomplishments.

Being present at pep rallies, athletic competitions, and other school functions occupies only part of his well-filled time. Superintendent of the Highland Park Independent School District for six years, Mr. Monroe has helped carry out programs of school improvement and expansion, and an increase in teachers' salaries.

Mr. Monroe first taught in Friona, Texas, and later in Pampa, during which time he earned his master's degree from Colorado State College of Education. In 1954 he came to Hi Park from Midland, where he had served for thirteen years as superintendent of schools.

Senior High principal Mr. Wiseman, Director of Education Dr. Margaret Wasson, Junior High principal Mr. Woosley and Mr. Monroe look over a graph showing scores of an achievement test.

District Schools

Mr. Monroe energetically joins the school board members, the principals of all the schools in the district, the director of athletics, the business manager of the schools, and the director of instruction in promoting fast-paced progress for all the schools in our district.

Elected for three year terms, the seven school board members meet once every month to discuss school problems and accomplishments. Board of Trustees President A. H. McCulloch has just finished a term as president of the Texas Association of School Boards.

Determining the length of vacations, deciding courses of study, and setting the taxes of all schools in the Highland Park Independent School District are just a few of the matters that come under the duties of the school board.

One of the main projects of this year's school board has been planning a manual for college-bound seniors.

Principal Sets High Standards

BEN W. WISEMAN
Principal
Highland Park High School

Ben W. Wiseman has spent thirty-two years in contributing to the development of one of the nation's outstanding school systems. Thousands of students who have graduated from Highland Park High School can testify that he has done his job well.

Among these graduates have been Mr. Wiseman's own two children, and still going up through the ranks are three grandsons who attend Hyer Elementary School. These future Scots, when they reach high school, will benefit from the accomplishments of their grandfather.

Among these many accomplishments is the fact that he was one of the few high school principals to serve on the executive committee of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. For fifteen years he was an active participant on the various committees of the association.

Hi Park has one of the most advanced guidance and counseling programs available because of his interest in the students' development. During the summer Mr. Wiseman personally studies the records of each sophomore so that at the opening of school he is able to advise the teachers concerning the students' abilities and weaknesses.

Mr. Wiseman speaks fluent French; by living and studying in France, he obtained a true appreciation of the language. Since he has also been a French teacher and dean of a junior college, Hi Park's principal understands the problems and needs of the classroom teachers.

Woodcarving, fishing, and gardening are some of the hobbies which have provided relaxation from his professional duties.

Efficient Vice-Principal Aids HP

C. D. BOWLBY
Vice-Principal
Highland Park High School

"Would you please sign this note for me to get out of class?" asks another student. Hi Park's Vice-Principal, Mr. C. D. Bowlby, patiently nods his head as he places his signature on another permit.

Attendance is just one of the many duties that Mr. Bowlby is confronted with every day. In a high school of over thirteen hundred students, it takes a hard-working person to make the school run smoothly. Mr. Bowlby performs his daily duties of arranging the school calendar, scheduling meetings of the various clubs, and disciplining pupils. Making announcements and seeing that school property is in top condition are also tasks of the efficient Vice-Principal.

Teachers and students alike have given many thanks to the Hi Park Parent-Teacher Association for the air-conditioning in the cafeteria and the auditorium. Every third Wednesday of October, November, February, April and May, the members listen to various speakers discuss the problems of teenagers and how the P-TA can better fulfill its obligations to the students.

The main project this year of the Hi Park's Dads' Club is to continue the educational fund for the benefit of teachers. The monthly meetings are held to plan projects and drives so that all the schools in the district can be aided in furthering the interests of the students.

Miss Thornell discusses a charity drive with council members Nancy Alexander, Gerri Smyser, Jim Kramer, and Len Vaughn.

Miss Thornell Is Dedicatee of 1961

Interests in poetry, people, the theater, and current events characterize Miss Eleanor Thornell, dedicatee of the 1961 Highlander.

Miss Thornell, English teacher in the Highland Park schools since 1935, has that capacity for making her students want to learn that is the mark of an outstanding teacher. She is not content to teach her courses in American literature and sophomore English solely by the textbook; because of her varied interests she always injects new information which keeps the close attention of her students. Her bent for the dramatic is shown by her sophomore English classes' portrayal of Greek myths and plays, which stimulates the interest of her students. This love of drama is also carried out in her attendance at the Dallas Theater Center and the Broadway Theater League.

Miss Thornell is an avid sports fan, book monitor for the Association of University Women, member of a faculty square dance group, and participant in informal courses at SMU. She is interested in all her former students and enjoys receiving news from them. The many-faceted teacher graduated from Rice University with high honors and received her M.A. from Southern Methodist University. She came to Scotland in 1935, teaching English and sponsoring the Student Council at Junior High and later at High School.

Highlander

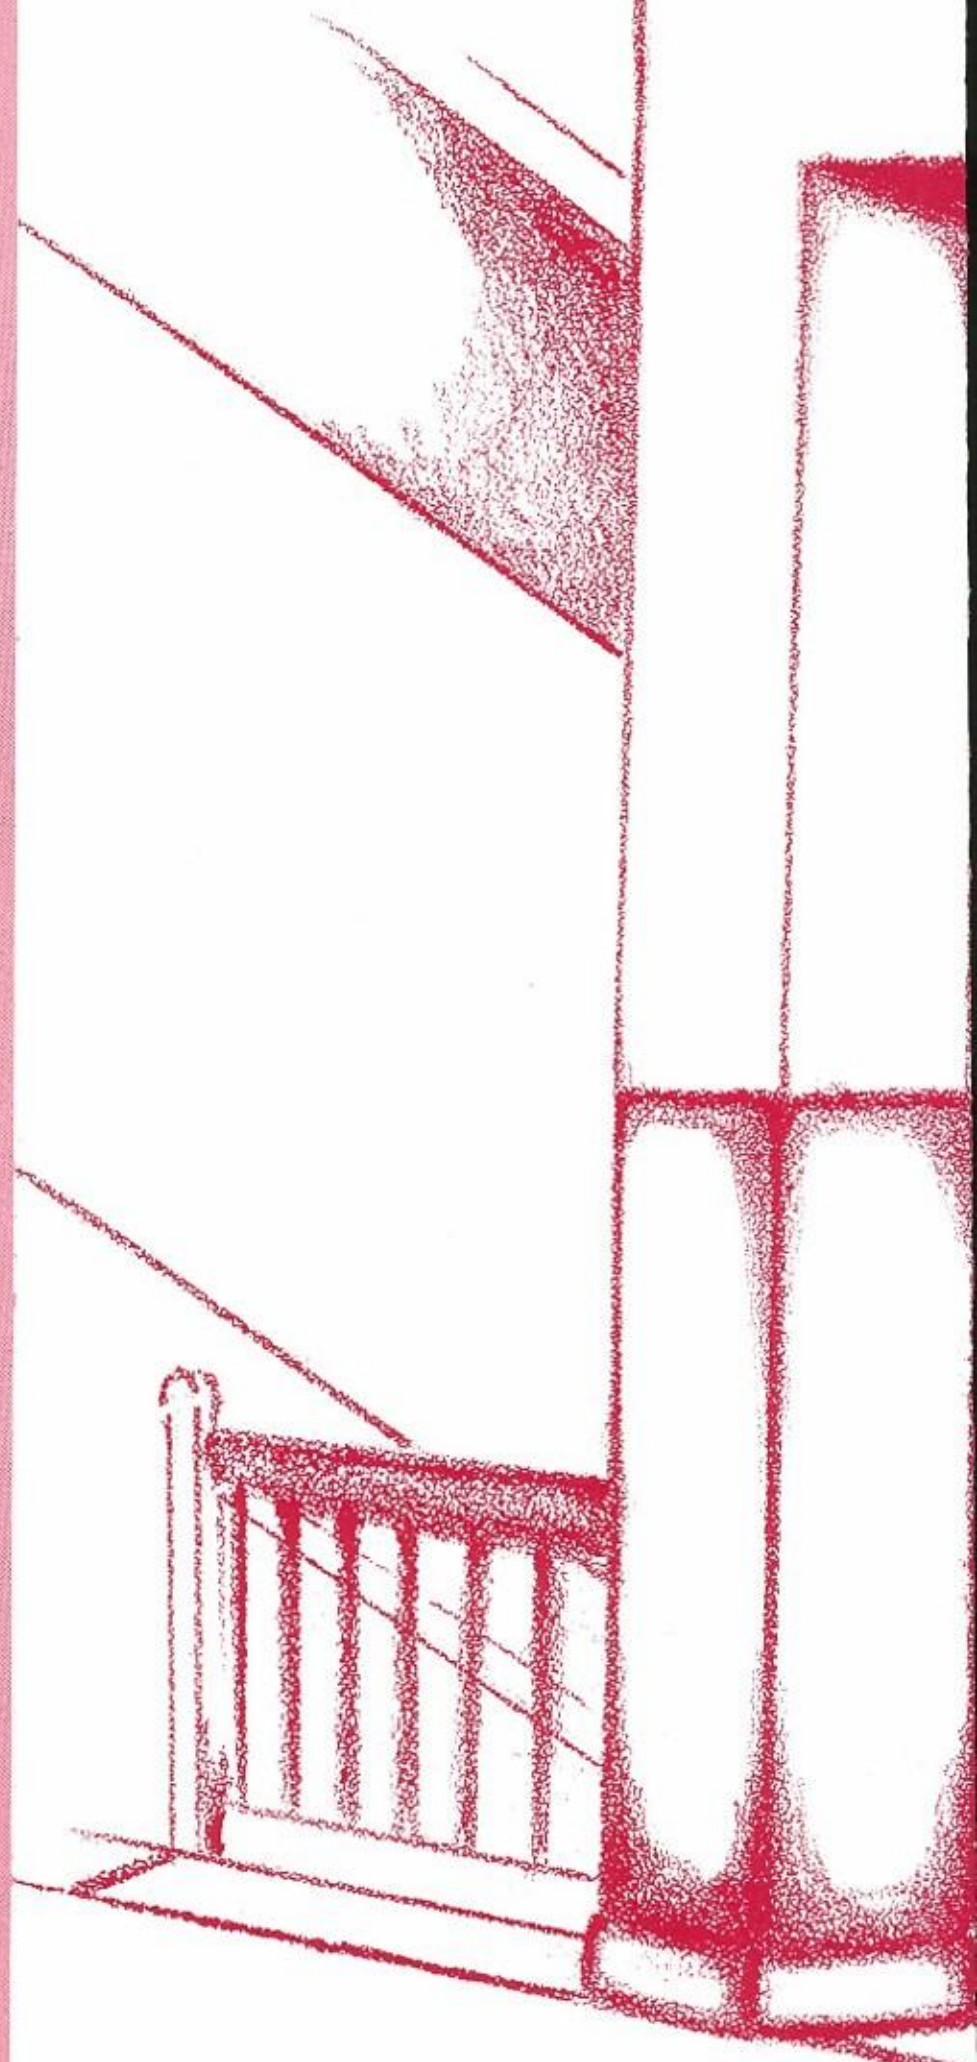

Clan Finds Incentive in School Program

Extracurricular activities form a vital part of life at Hi Park. Through these, Clan members learn to get along with others and contribute their energies and spirit to sports, organizations, and relaxation.

Gathering for fun as well as work, the Clan may be found at assemblies, dances, or pep rallies. Students develop themselves socially as well as mentally through activities planned by the various clubs and organizations to bring the student body closer together. Among these are picnics, parties, and dances.

Every Clan must have capable leaders. Chosen by a school-wide election, Hi Park's leaders contribute much time and energy to their elected offices. Students who have done outstanding work on the Student Council, Bagpipe staff, Highlander staff, and pep rally committee are honored with membership in the Hall of Fame. Members of the society are selected by the sponsors of each organization. The student body also chooses eight favorites, four boys and four girls. These eight students are revealed in the Highlander each spring.

Summer Produces Sun-Tanned Scots

"Big seniors" Kenny Newberry, Corky Barton, and David Bywaters put the lowly sophomores to work.

Carefree days in sweltering heat—that was summer. Scots were the usual sight at many of the nearby lakes and swimming pools as they strove to beat that typically Texas heat.

However, the daily, dreaded alarm announcing another morning of summer school made "carefree days" few and far between for some. As the brilliant idea of taking government in the leisure time of summer became reality, it suddenly seemed to lose much of its appeal.

For those not enrolled in summer school, planning orientation and pep rally skits, attending football running camp, and selling ads for the Bagpipe and the Highlander filled many a summer day as industrious Scots made ready for the coming school year.

Adding to the bewilderment of the sophomores at orientation are Susie Germany and Mike McBirney with their own version of the "H" Association.

Spirit Sails in Pep Rallies, Games

Empty steps and quiet halls at Hi Park were rapidly filled at the sound of the first school bell last September by Scots returning from all parts of the world—Finland, England, Sweden, France, South America, many parts of the United States, and from a summer of fun in their "own back yards."

By the time students had become used to their new schedules, the first issue of the Bagpipe was out with the story telling of the Scots' 27-0 victory over Thomas Jefferson High School. Highlander staff members began their assignments by arranging for underclassman pictures to be taken. Student Council representatives were elected from their second period classes. The Pep Rally Committee met to plan clever skits and posters to bolster Scot spirit.

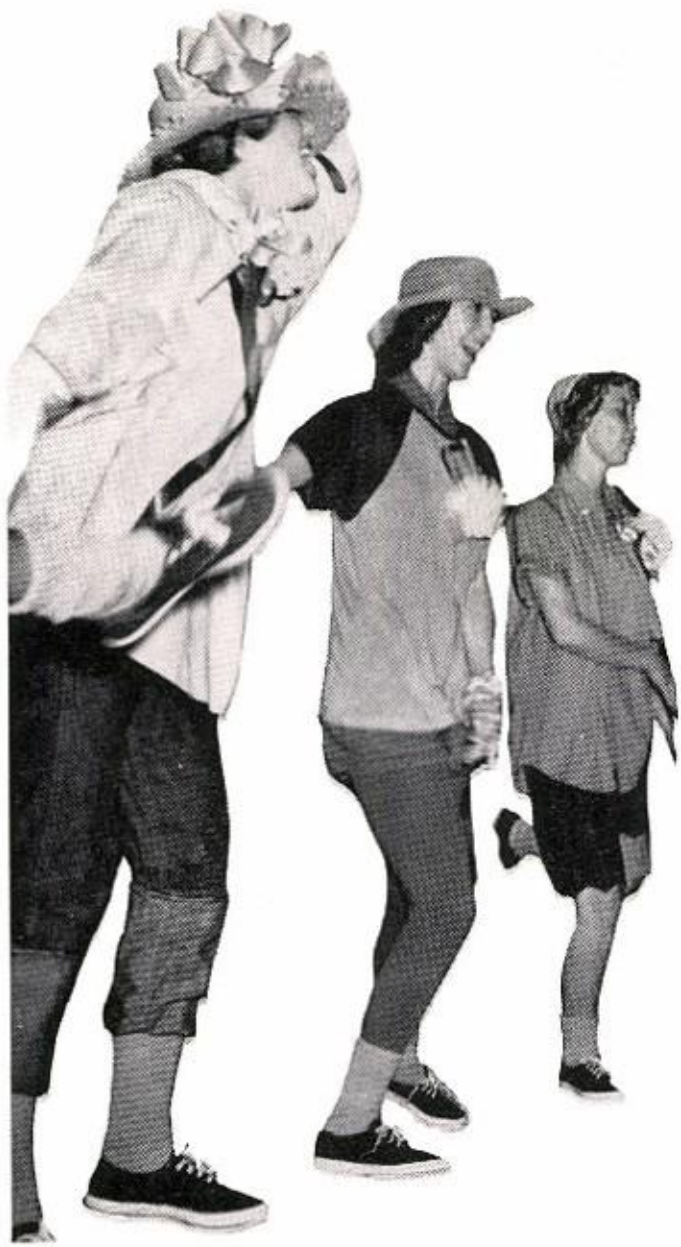

Soon all the extra-curricular activities had begun their projects for the year—Lads and Lassies, Highlandaires, the Band, and the Orchestra chose the music for their respective programs, and rehearsals were under way. Girls in gym classes started a series of exercises to limber them up for the sports of the year. Intramural competition opened with a ping-pong tournament.

And so the school year 1960-61 was launched with typical Scot spirit and enthusiasm—a spirit that carried throughout the year.

October Means Football, Parties,

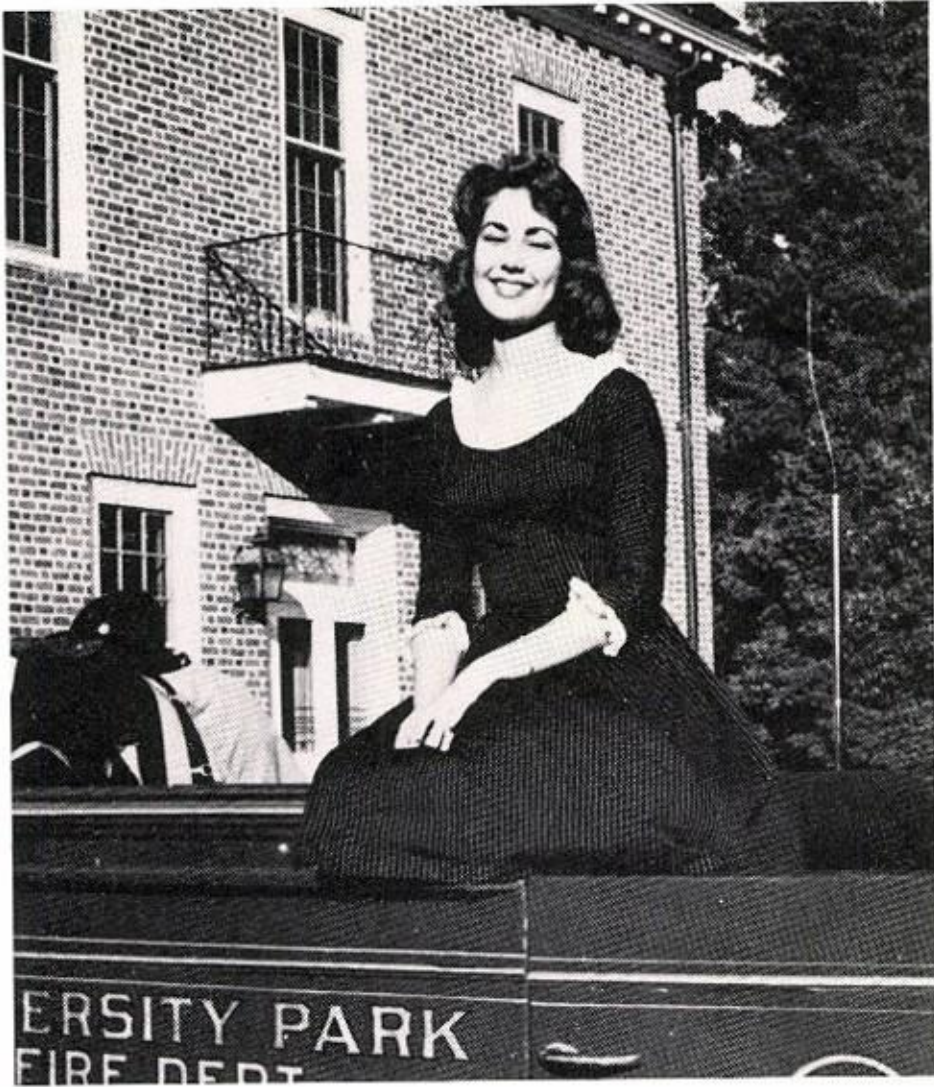

Hi Park Scots began the month of October by observing Religious Emphasis Week. During this week a representative of each faith spoke at assembly, and on Friday the Lads and Lassies presented a program of sacred music.

Scot spirit was boosted by the traditional Color Day, as students donned the school colors of blue and gold. Hi Park's first district game gave Scots a chance to show this great spirit.

October was a busy month for the various Hi Park organizations. The Hi-Lites sponsored their annual Mother-Daughter Tea to acquaint the sophomores and their mothers with the upperclassmen and their mothers. Hi Park journalists attended the Southwest Journalism Forum, which was held at S.M.U. Foreign students were honored at a tea given by the Homemaking Department. Lads and Lassies relived their childhood days at their "kiddy picnic."

The first holiday of the year climaxed October as many clansmen attended the State Fair, which was celebrating its seventy-fifth anniversary.

At the pep rally Jimmy Carmichael adds to the already high Scot spirit with a brief talk.

High Seniors Present Satire

"You have no idea the things I can do," sighs Patty Stephens to Tom Hampton.

Satire, based on political parties and their leaders, was staged by the January graduates, who presented "The Girls in 509." The plot concerned two spinsters, Mimsy Van Der Wyck (Patty Stephens) and Aunt Hattie (Ann Teel), who cut themselves off from society because they feel that after the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932, their grand old Republican party is "doomed for good." Consequently, they lock themselves in their hotel room.

It takes an absent-minded journalism professor named Adam Pusey (Tom Hampton) to pry them from their hermitage twenty-five years later. The recluses are charmed by the eager-to-please writer and do everything they can to help him get a scoop for the New York Times.

After finding that their walls are papered with General Motors stock, the former paupers prepare to dine out in style befitting their new status as millionaires.

The student director was Nancy Reed, and Ann Teel was in charge of getting the props. Jimmy Livingston saw to it that the lights were always shining in the right place at the right time, while Sally Epstein and Judy Peyton helped publicize the play. Backstage crews were assisted by Sandra Cason, Susie Cohen, and Sarah Redus, makeup committee members.

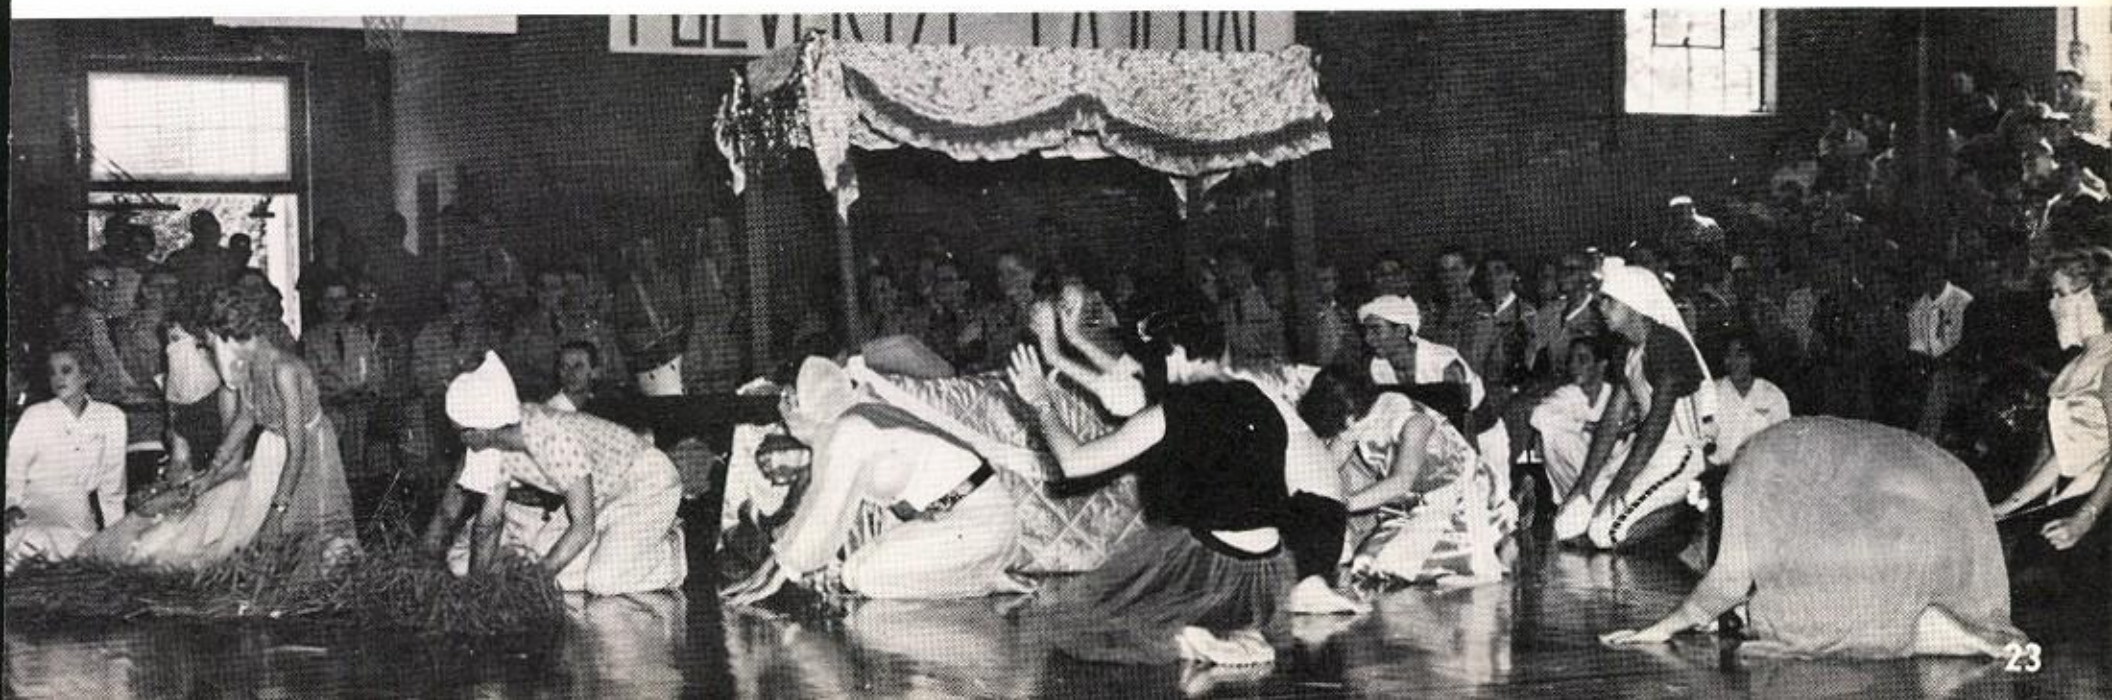

"One more dart and I would have won that teddy bear!" grimaces Ellen Gay to attentive Norma Friou.

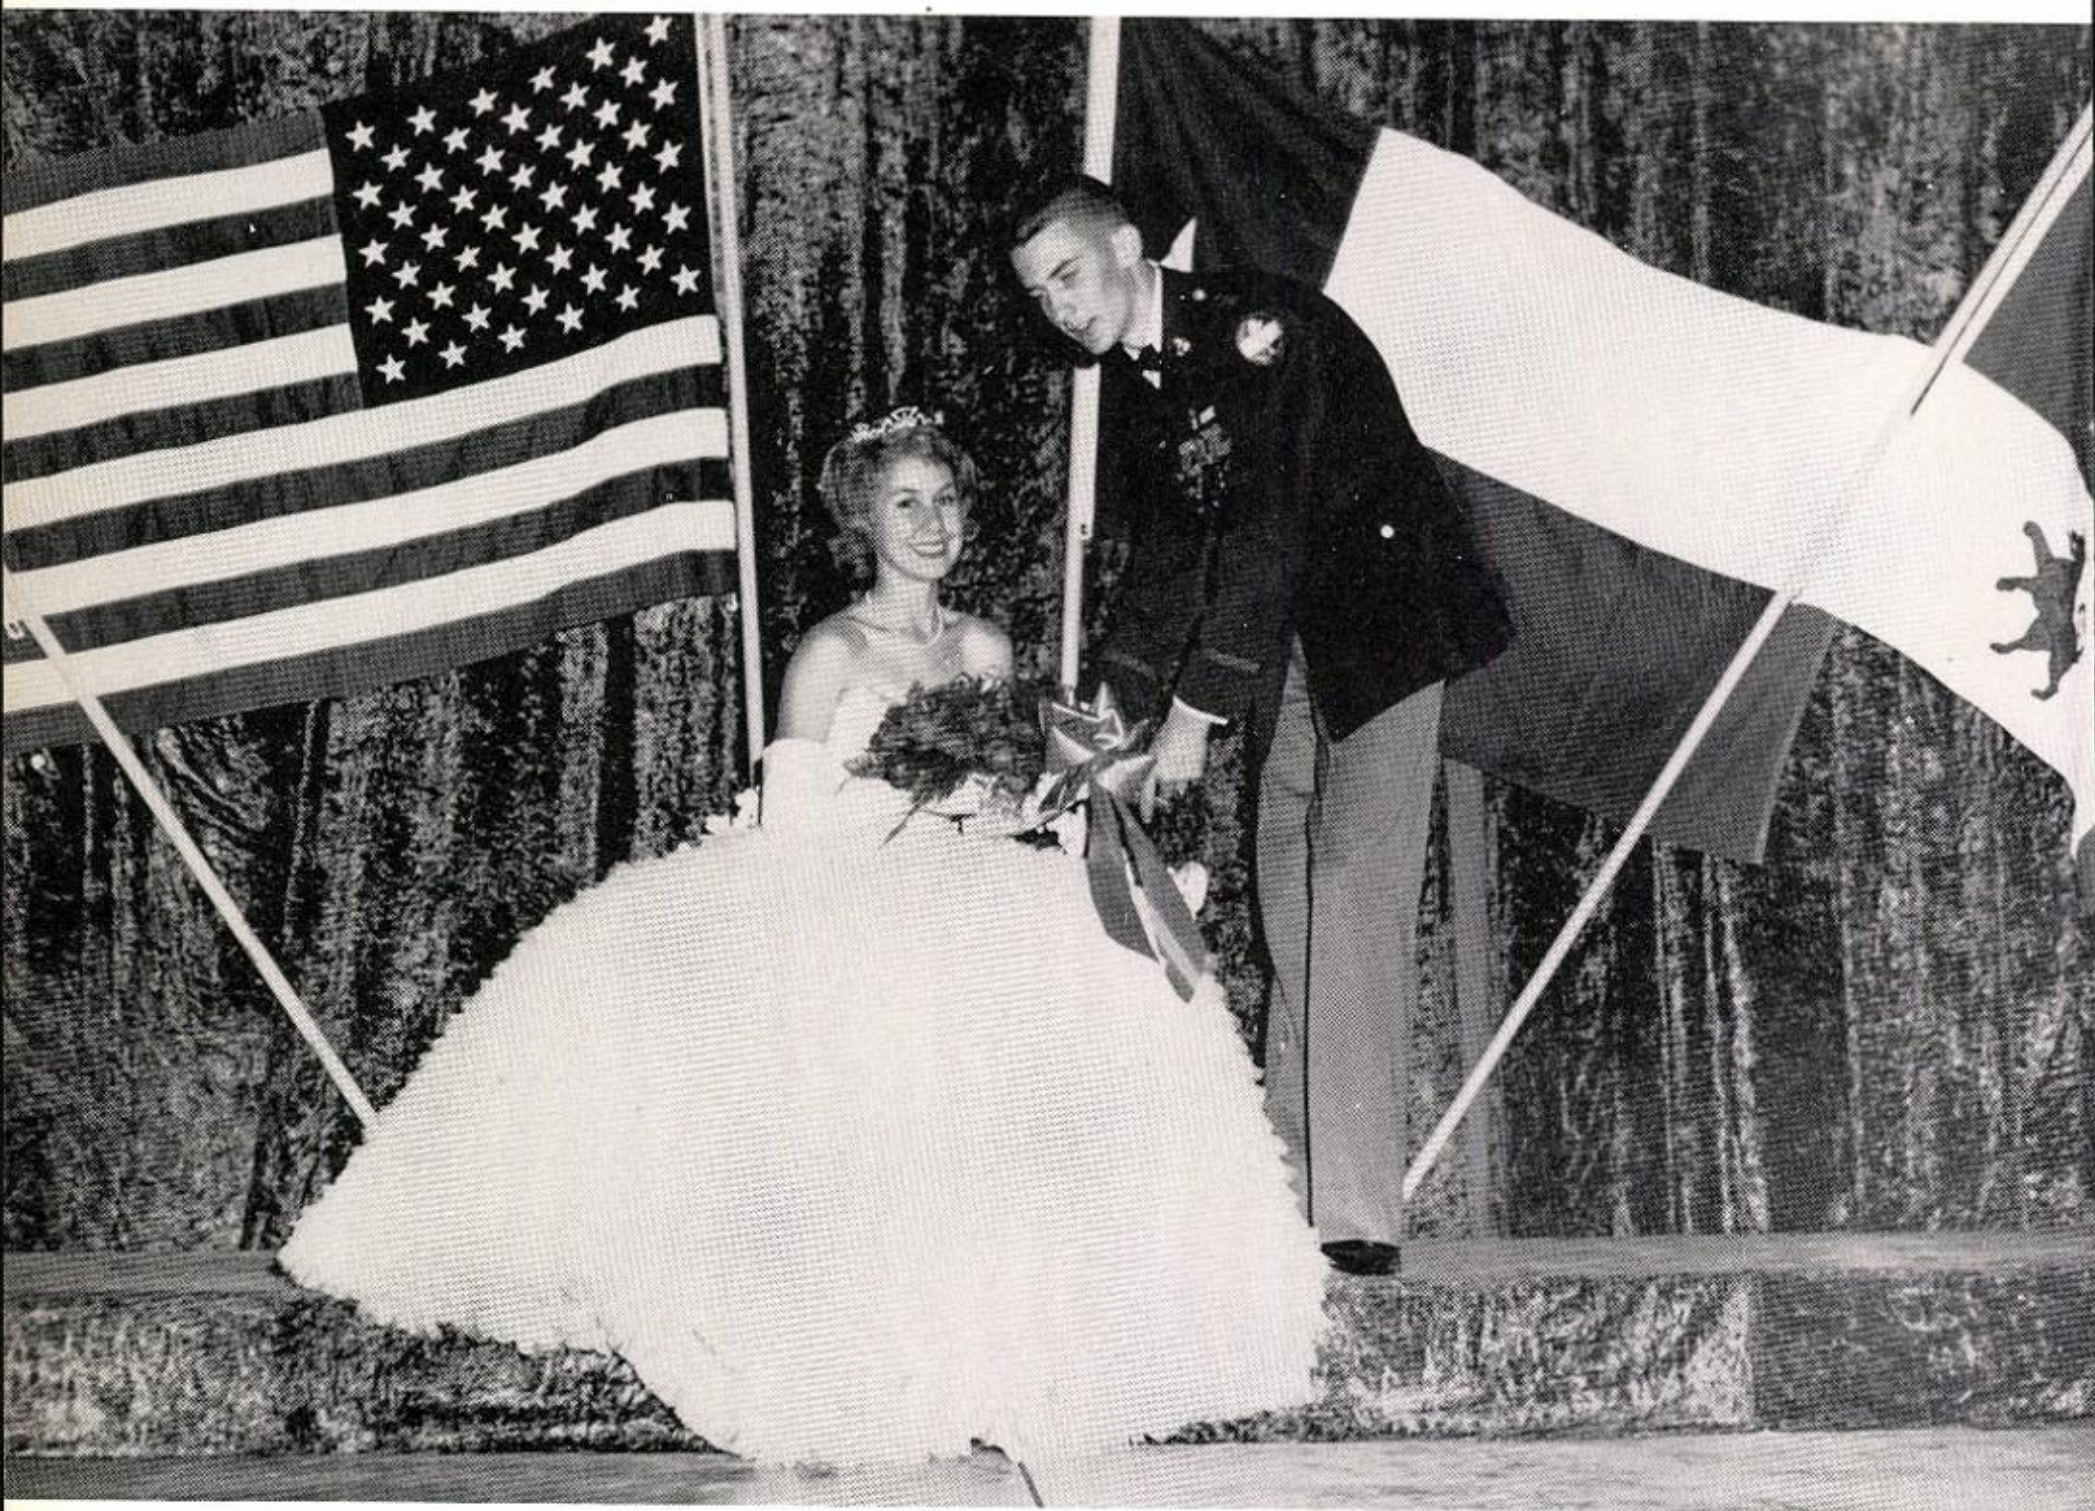

"Don't tell me we're broke!" exclaims perturbed Ann Teel to Steve Chambers, as Patty Stephens looks on, uninterested, at senior play rehearsal.

AFS exchange student Christiane von Dach finds herself

That glorious, stuffed feeling of Thanksgiving brought November toward its close. The calendar showed a busy month for social events and football games.

Football brought afternoon pep rallies and a twelve-foot scroll signed by faithful Scot supporters. Numerous dances put social activities into full swing. Hi-Lites Barn Dance, the Homecoming Dance, and the ROTC Regimental Ball all contributed to make November a month of fun-filled weekends.

Without neglecting their studies, Scots found time to get in the holiday mood by making preparations and decorations for the Student Council Semi-Formal and the Band Christmas Dance. Giant stuffed stockings and huge peppermint sticks set a gay atmosphere for the parties and showed that Christmas was just around the corner.

On the more serious side, some students took time to attend the Texas High School Press Association in Denton, and to listen to a report on the new developments in the field of atomic energy. Members of the Lads and Lassies staged an outstanding program of religious music.

The Hi Park cagers practiced for the Bowie and the Dr. Pepper Basketball Tournaments, and the "B" football team wound up its year with an elaborate banquet December 14.

January Sees End of Term,

David Bywaters and David Hildebrand examine their report cards at the end of the fall semester.

Filled with turkey and holiday memories, Scots returned to school to prepare for mid-term exams. Jubilant high seniors, who did not have to take exams, plagued underclassmen and "low seniors" with their new freedom and cries of "only two more weeks."

At the high seniors' Honor Day assembly, Susan Shank and Charles Trapp received the Blanket Awards. Top scholastic awards went to Sally Epstein and Susan Shank.

Corky Terry and Randy Wieser were announced as co-captains of the 1961 Golden Avalanche at the annual football banquet.

During all this excitement Scot spirit was lifted in support of the basketball team, which began its first district play. Also beginning were tryouts for the Lads and Lassies' spring program, "South Pacific."

After the bustle of exams, graduation, and registration began to lull, the halls of Highland Park settled down once more to the normal routine of the spring semester.

1960's football season was climaxed by the Homecoming game against Denton, followed by a dance and the crowning of Mike McBirney as 1960 Homecoming queen.

Hi Park Claims Thirteen Merit Finalists

Thirteen outstanding Hi Park students were honored this year as National Merit finalists.

The group, chosen on a basis of scores from tests given in March of the junior year, recommendations, grades, and scores of the December College Board tests, is eligible for scholarships awarded by the National Merit Corporation and 115 other organizations.

Seventeen other Scots received recognition from the

Bill Sanderson, Tom Shelton, Andy Small, Robin Spencer, Barbara Taylor, Ruth Taylor, and Betty Winstead complete the list.

Clan Works for High Standards

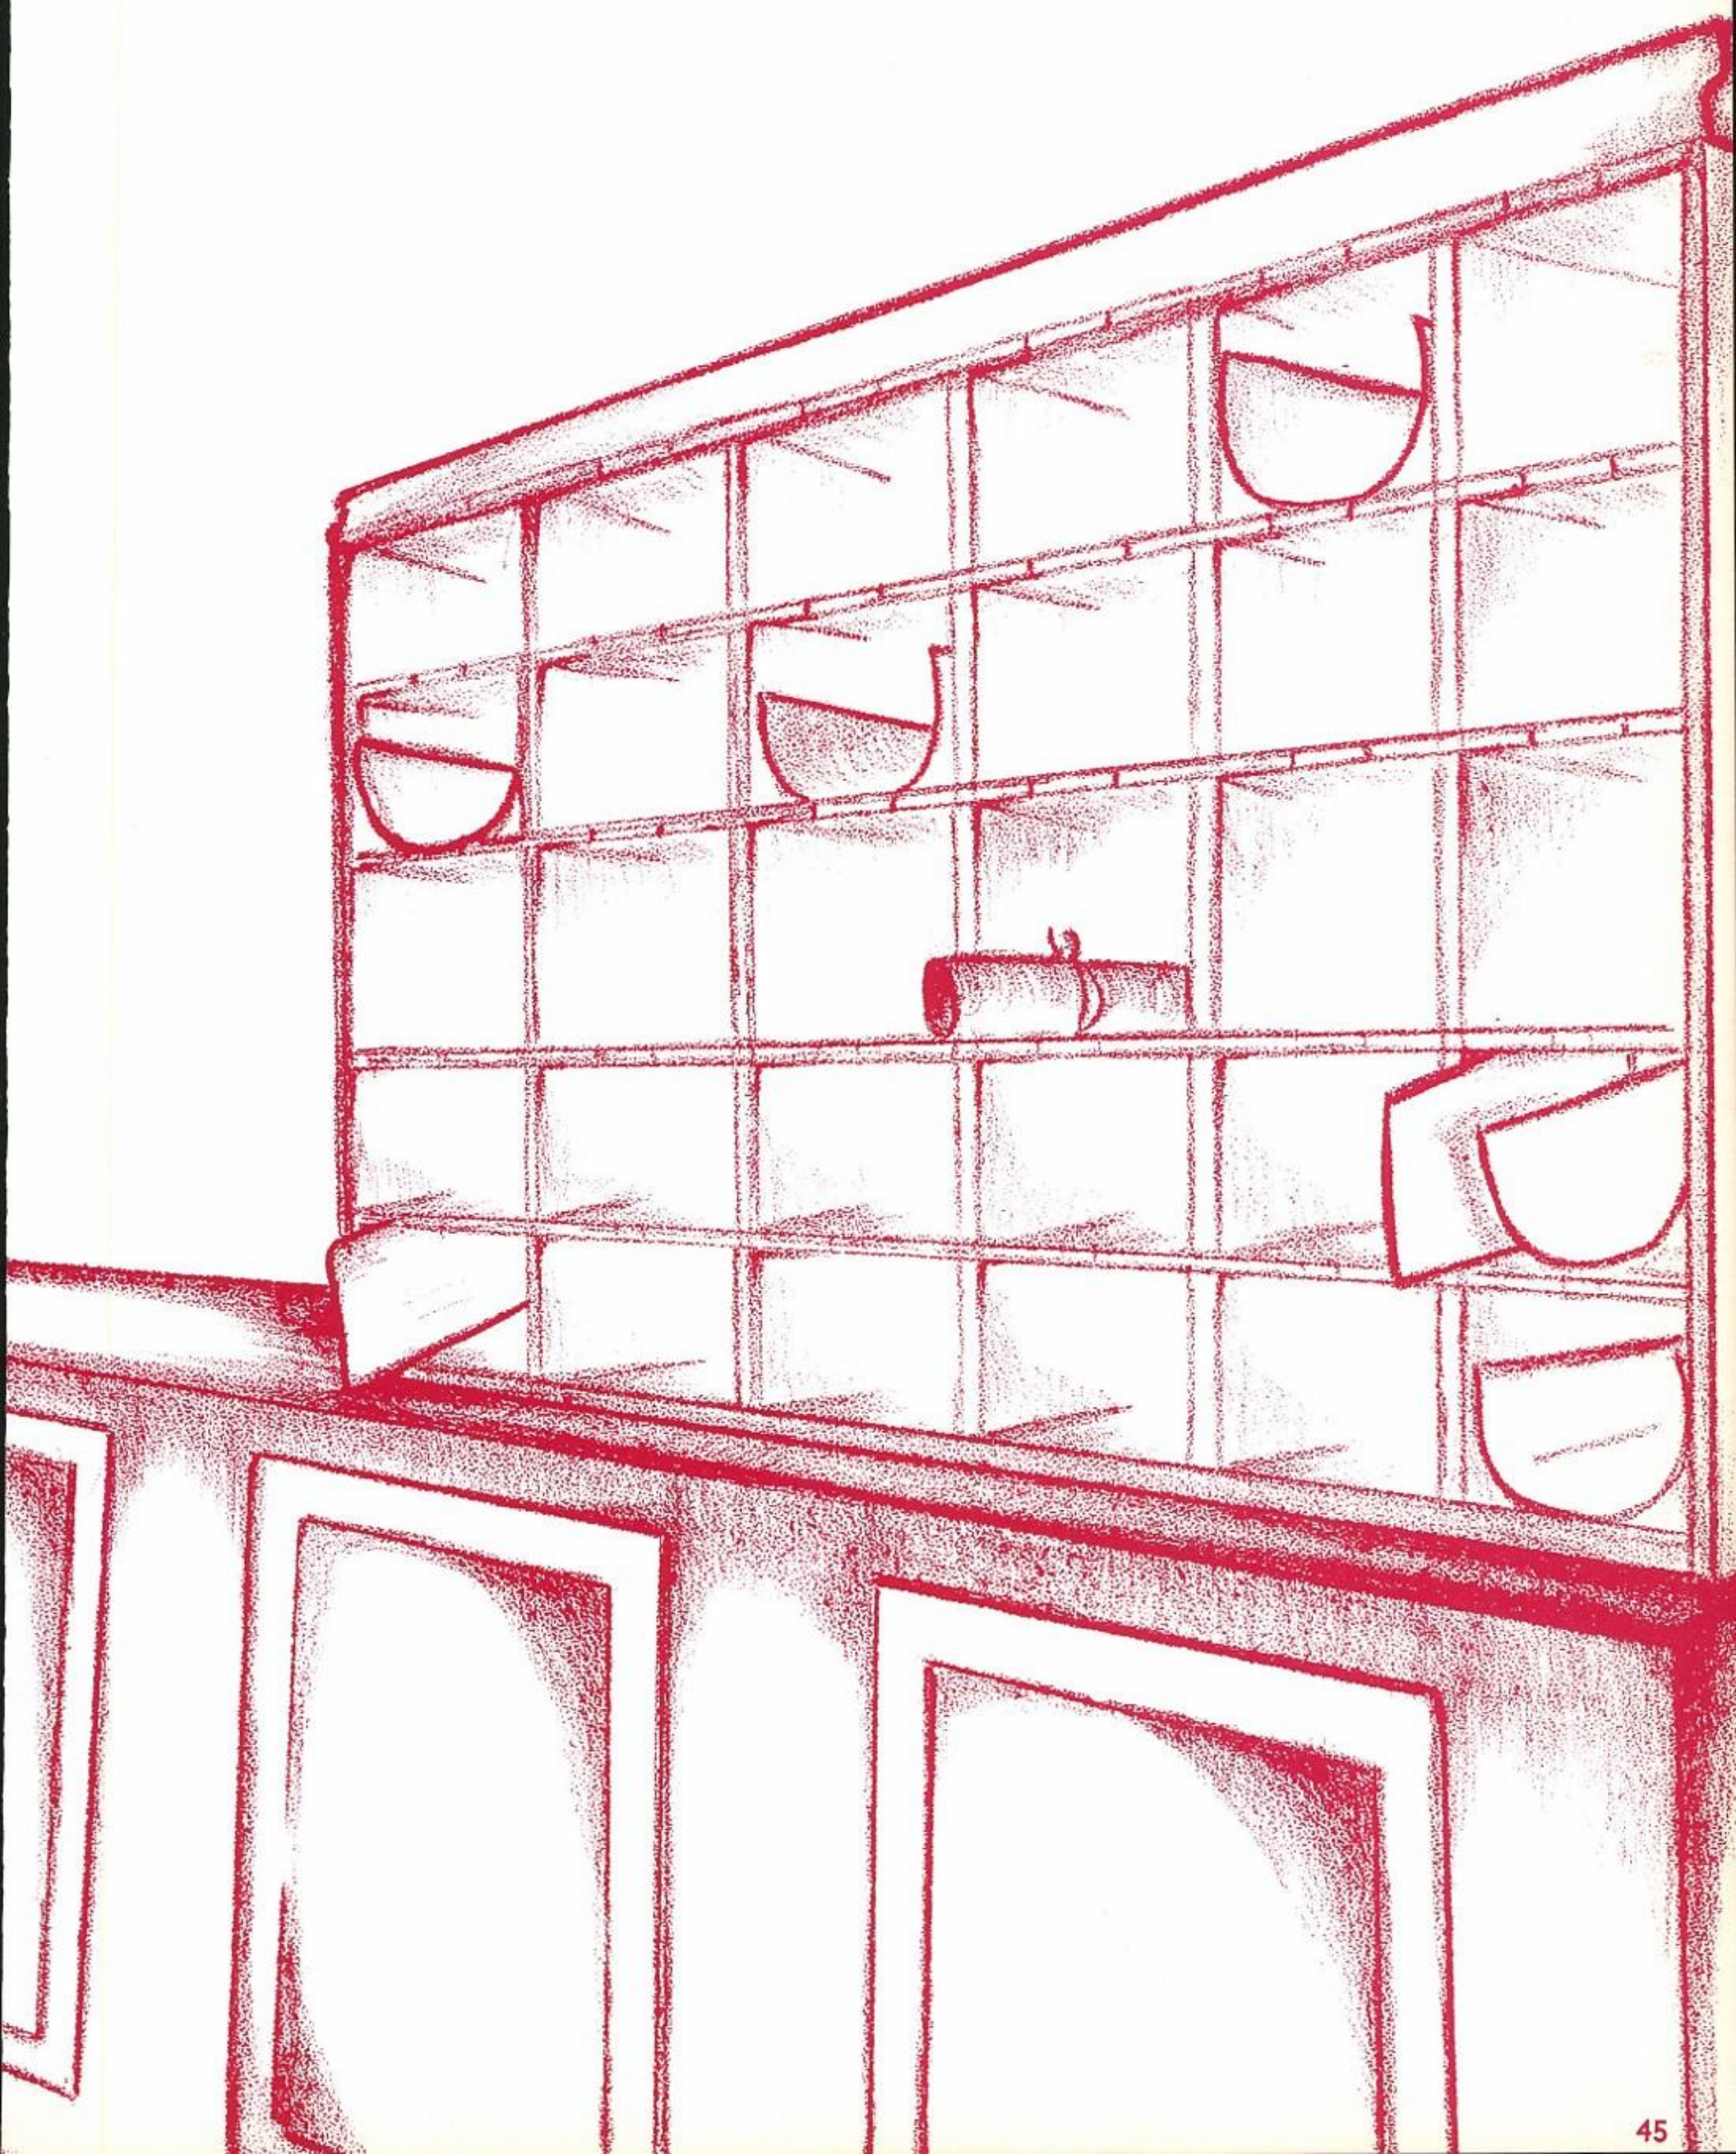

Hi Park's Clan is made up of teachers, students, and administrators. Each of these holds a vital part in the Clan, and all are necessary for complete harmony and unity. The togetherness of the Clan, whether in work, fun, or service, helps make Highland Park the school that it is.

More than 1300 seniors, juniors, and sophomores make up the student body. This year marked the end of the mid-term classes, since the last mid-term class graduated in January.

Another integral part of the Clan is the faculty. It is through their teachers' efforts that students gain a thorough knowledge of such subjects as math, science, English, and foreign languages. The fact that ninety-seven per cent of the Hi Park graduates attend college is proof of a superior faculty.

Many responsibilities ranging from educational programs to school maintenance are in the hands of Highland Park's able administrators. The school's remarkable scholastic standing and representation are due in part to its fine administrative staff. Guided by the excellent faculty and administrators, every student is able to gain goals and ideals that will guide him throughout his life.

Mrs. Rousseau and Mrs. Dickenson insist that making out tests is harder than taking them.

Literature from Beowulf to Silas Marner and grammar from semicolons to spelling are included in Hi Park's three years of English. An additional advanced 8X course for seniors stresses composition and reading in preparation for college.

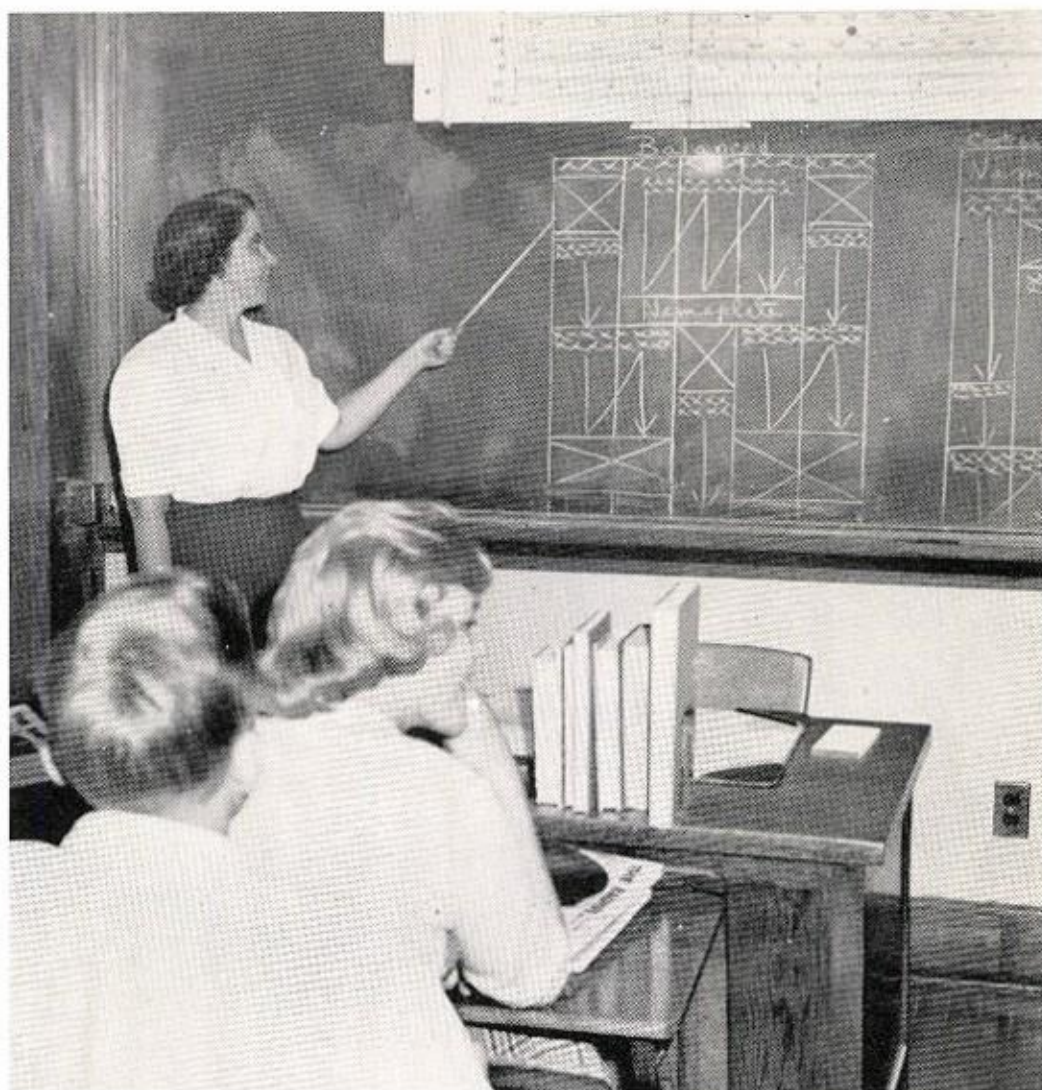

Sophomores take an intensive course in grammar, and study literature, including Dickens, Shakespeare, and George Eliot; while juniors study American literature from the colonial period to the present. Juniors also write vocational themes to familiarize themselves with the use of the library.

Scotland's senior English course emphasizes composition and readings in English literature from earliest times. During the study of Shakespeare, seniors may easily be identified by a dazed look and their repetition of "Is this a dagger which I see before me?"

A special reading course is available for those desiring to increase their reading speed. Regular book reports are made in all English courses.

Aspiring reporters may enroll in journalism, where they study feature stories, headline writing, make-up, and straight news stories. Experience is provided by work on the Bagpipe, and all journalism students must turn in at least ten inches of copy per semester.

Speech classes emphasize the development of self-confidence and personality. Speech 4 delves into theater philosophy and techniques, and students present short plays.

"And on the left we have a balanced layout," says Miss O'Sullivan as she explains make-up to a journalism class.

Mysteries of Functions, Angles, Theorems

Warren Cole illustrates to Ellen Bloom how to divide polynomials by factoring.

Carol Buzzini serves punch to Mr. Kidd at the homemaking department's tea for the faculty.

"Two and two does not equal four. It's five," argues Mike Levy to Judy Waldman and Polly Richardson as they study for exams.

Math Department

Explained to Scots Enrolled in Math

Miss Smith explains mysteries of geometry to Barbara Taylor.

"The lateral area of a frustum of a cone is equal to π times the slant height multiplied by the sum of the radii of the bases." This solid geometry theorem and others like it contribute to the confusion of Hi Park's math students. Four and one half years of math are offered, including algebra, plane geometry, solid geometry, trigonometry, and Math 8X, an advanced course including calculus, analytic geometry, and a review of high school algebra.

The required two years of algebra include the study of radicals, ratio and proportion, progressions, and the quadratic formula. The third required math course, plane geometry, covers angles, inequalities, areas, and loci.

For those wishing to take advanced math, solid and trigonometry are available in addition to the Math 8X course. Those enrolled in "solid" study figures in the third dimension, while "trig" students investigate identities, inverse functions, and the functions of angles.

An additional course in the use and application of the slide rule is given during the activities period for one semester.

Gerri Smyser, Susan Lindsley, Patty Stephens, and Sandra Allen show some of their Spanish projects to Miss Boyd.

Cameron Smith, Rachel Schoch, and Sally Hardy practice their "français" as Mr. Jarrett watches intently.

Jennie Nutt and Charlotte Hervey unload the new Spanish encyclopedia for the school library.

Vocabulary, conversation, grammar, translation—these make up Hi Park's three language departments, Latin, French, and Spanish. Three years of French and four each of Latin and Spanish are offered, with the first two years of each course consisting of the fundamentals of grammar and vocabulary and the more advanced courses employing novels and works about each country to increase fluency in translation and speaking.

Hi Park "Frenchmen" learn about the customs and geography of France through translation and reading letters from their adopted French orphans. Third year French students read novels and short stories.

Life in Spain and Mexico, and the Spanish culture of our own Southwest are delved into by making of maps and Spanish projects, and the dramatization of stories read in the advanced Spanish classes.

Scot-land's young "Romans" study declension, conjugations, and the intricacies of grammar, while the more advanced classes investigate the culture of ancient Rome through Cicero and Vergil.

Experiments Teach Natural Laws

Mrs. Sauer explains the anatomy of the heart to Bobby Richardson.

"Bugs are not bugs; they are insects!" This is one of the first startling pieces of information a young Scot scientist receives in Hi Park's biology courses. These courses, along with chemistry and physics, compose Hi Park's science department.

Biology students study the lower forms of life during the first semester, investigating plant life and the human body during the second half of the year.

Ionic equations, the study of elements and compounds, organic chemistry, and the gas laws comprise part of Hi Park's chemistry course. Students discover the laws of chemistry and their applications through lab work, which forms an important part of the course.

Through research and experimentation, physics students learn the practical applications of the laws governing mechanics, sound, heat, light, electricity and dynamics.

Ben Hill, John Field, David Dalton, and Sandra Allen sign up for another term theme.

Themes Prepare Scots for College Work

Sally Howell and Jerry Clark bone up on current events for history.

"Somebody has checked all the books on my subject out of the library; I can't find a thing and my term theme's due tomorrow!"

This plaintive wail becomes commonplace around Hi Park every semester as American history students struggle with note cards, outlines, and bibliographies to get term themes turned in on time. The rest of each semester is occupied with a study of our country's political, economic, and social history from the explorers to present times. World history and culture from prehistoric to modern times is the subject of another Hi Park social studies course.

Three one-semester courses, civics, economics, and commercial law help prepare young Scots to be useful and well-informed citizens. Civics deals with the functions of the various governmental offices and stresses good citizenship. In economics, a detailed study of our modern economy leads to a comparison of free enterprise with the Communistic system. Commercial law students hold a mock trial at the end of the semester in which they apply the principals of everyday law which they have learned.

Coaches Naylor, Rutledge, and Culp prepare to board the plane for the football trip to Corpus Christi.

Physical Education Department

Varied Activities Included in Gym

ROTC boys add spirit to a pep rally.

Hi Park's halls echo with grunts and groans each fall as sore Scots stretch stiff muscles after a summer of inactivity. Girls' gym activities consist of speedball, tenniquoits, and basketball during the fall semester, and volleyball, badminton, square dancing, and softball in the spring. Boys participate in tumbling, weight-lifting, and seasonal sports.

Safety education is offered by Highland Park to all students who are fifteen years and three months old. At the end of the one semester course, if the student passes the standard test given by the state, he receives his license. The course promotes safe and courteous driving habits.

All boys may participate in the Reserve Officers Training Corps. The course gives the ROTC cadet a basic knowledge of military tactics, as well as marksmanship, drill maneuvers, and the handling and care of guns. ROTC officers are promoted on the basis of military knowledge, academic grades, participation at Camp Dallas, and leadership.

Homemakers, singers, artists, typists, and carpenters—all find interesting and informative courses open to them in Hi Park's vocational and fine arts departments.

Homemaking courses feature sewing, stressing design, style, and color, while cooking courses emphasize nutrition and food planning. Boys enrolled in vocational training courses are offered metal shop and wood shop. These courses prepare students to use both hand and power tools and to know appropriate wood finishes. Cabinet making and the restoration of antiques are also included.

Three years of art are offered at Hi Park. These courses provide a knowledge of lettering, crafts, advertising design, painting, and stage display.

Musically minded Scots are offered extracurricular activities, such as band, orchestra, Lads and Lassies, and Highlandaires. They participate in assemblies and have the advantage of voice and instrumental training.

Future business majors are offered courses in typing, stenography, business math, and accounting.

Seasonal epidemics of schedule problems, term themes, and headaches find ready and able assistance in Hi Park's counselors, librarians, and nurse.

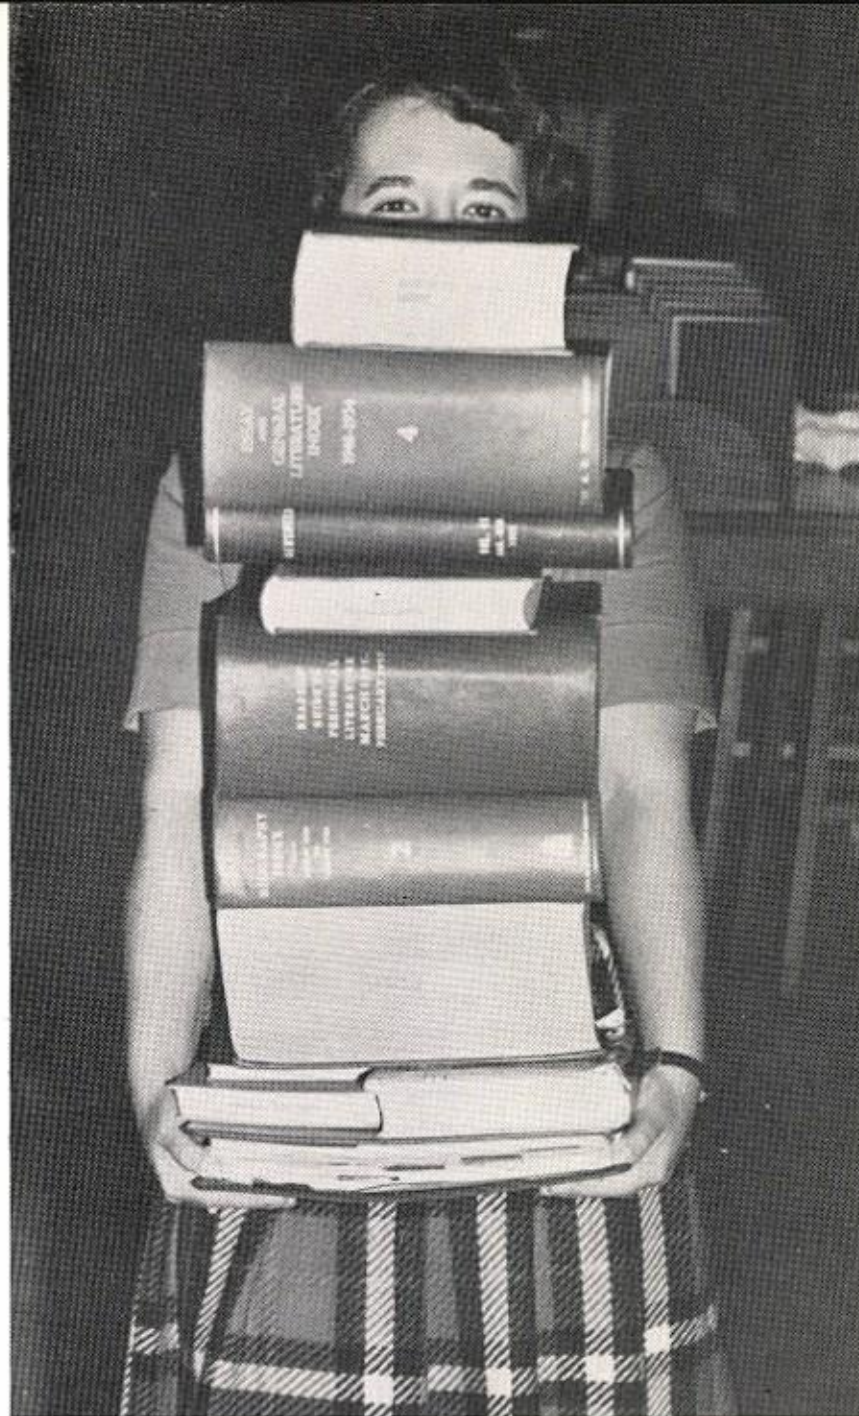

Scot counselors offer friendly and helpful advice to students about high school courses, and college preparation and entrance. Their offices house a library of pamphlets and bulletins available to college bound Scots.

Secretaries keep the various administrative offices running smoothly, while the registrar coordinates all the classes and arranges each schedule.

The library is an island of quiet in the midst of the hustle and bustle of Hi Park's halls. While providing colorful and often amusing displays concerning books, the librarians and student assistants proved invaluable to studious Scots by giving aid to semi-annual attacks of term-theme-itis.

Hi Parks' nurse is called upon to treat ailments ranging from broken fingernails as a result of volleyball to bruises incurred in speedball competition.

Recognizable only by her eyebrows, Ellen Lindsey periscopes over a pile of books.

Librarians, Secretaries, Counselors Counselors Cure College Woes

Senior counselor Miss Lacy shows seniors a copy of the new manual, "Planning Ahead."

Secretary Mrs. Dyer pauses a minute from checking on absentees.

Janie Clinton, like all college-bound seniors, fills out a request for a transcript as Miss Lee, office secretary, watches intently.

Excited Juniors Enter the World of Seniors

Seniors—the very word conjures up strange and wonderful thoughts in the minds of sophomores and juniors. Most new twelfth graders found that their envied classification was all they had imagined and more. The many varied activities of life at Hi Park kept most people busy with little free time for anything.

Pep rallies on Thursdays, football games on Friday nights, dances after many of the games—all built up to the Homecoming Dance and the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. The Scots also got their chance for revenge on Corpus Christi Ray and won over the Texans by a touchdown.

Activities had many other forms, however. The Lads and Lassies ended Religious Emphasis Week with an inspirational program. Both the band and orchestra presented programs highlighting the talents of many of Hi Park's outstanding seniors.

Seniors also listened for the announcements of the arrival of college representatives; they wrestled with the problem of college decisions amid a maze of catalogues, conferences, College Board examinations, and application blanks.

In December came the Student Council Christmas Dance to herald the holiday season with its splash of parties, dances, and all sorts of festivities, to say nothing of that long awaited two-week vacation.

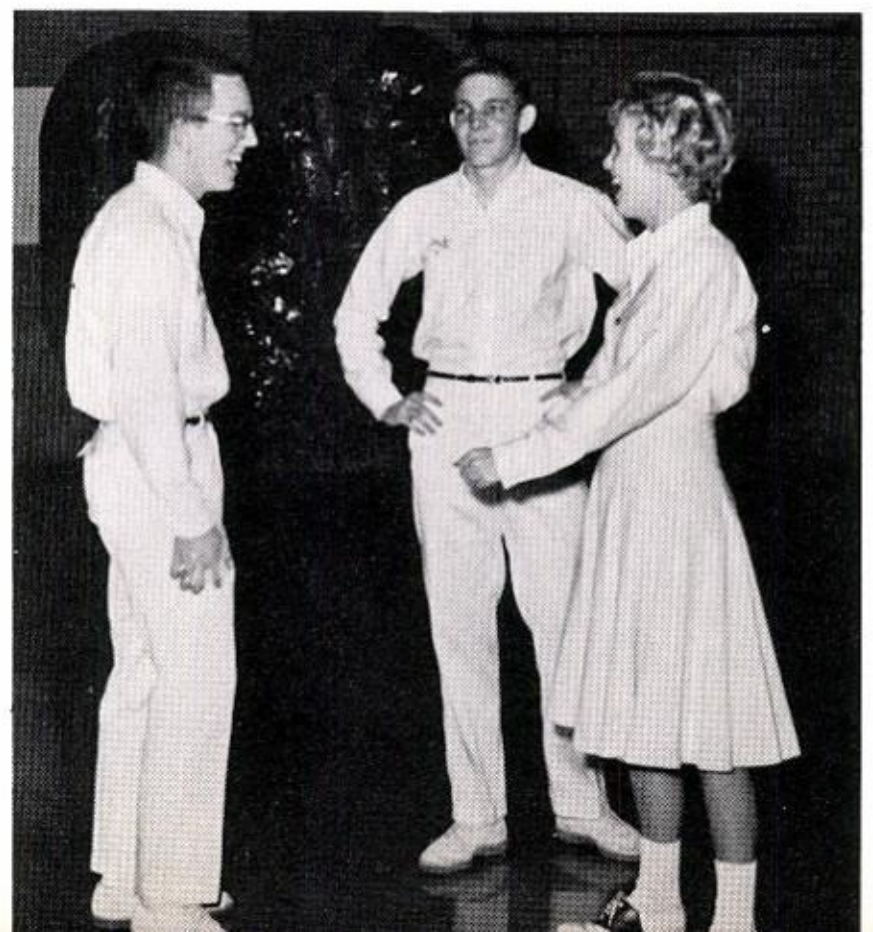

Shortly after the new year began, Hi Park's last mid-term class graduated, and the new high seniors joyfully completed their last set of exams.

Looking forward to the spring holiday was the only thing that helped make the long haul between Christmas and Easter bearable.

Banquets and dances of the various organizations were over just as the mad rush of senior parties began. All turned out well in the end for most with the Senior Picnic, Baccalaureate Service and the long awaited Commencement.

As graduating seniors, they felt their importance, for they had finally attained their goal, but they would meet even newer and greater challenges in the future, far better equipped because they had been a part of Hi Park Hi.

"What's so funny?" asks Bob Powell, while Jerry Clark and Anne Rogers guffaw in his face before a pep rally.

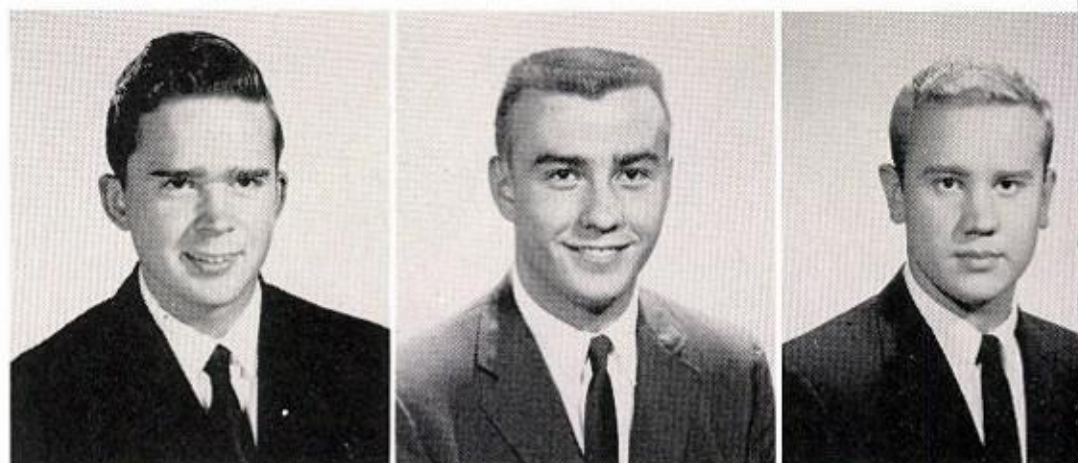

David Franklin, Susan Johnsen, Susan Shank, and Jimmy Carmichael, accompanied by Coach Naylor, sadly leave Highland Park for the last time.

Senior Activities Fill Spring Semester

Donna Florer and Gayla Tyson laughingly compare their rings.

"Kitchee, kitchee, koo," says Bob Hay to an English project.

January's winter wonderland was all too short for juniors Len Vaughn, John Crotty, Susie Howell, Marsha Kinnamon, and Nancy Arnold.

Senior Rings Styled for Juniors

Out of the lowly world of sophomores and into the sophisticated realm of juniorhood, Hi Park's juniors proudly made their way. The fall semester found them sun-tanned after a summer's fun and ready to begin their studies.

Plane geometry, chemistry, American history and junior English were mysteries waiting to be unraveled. Juniors discovered Our Town and Moby Dick in English. They struggled through parallel lines and tangents in geometry and triumphed over the valence sheets and formulas of chemistry. Scots took National Merit Scholarship Exams and college boards.

Socially speaking, it was fun and frolic for carefree juniors. They cheered at football and basketball games, purchased the prized senior rings, and attended junior parties. January brought a long-awaited snowfall and juniors were thrown into ecstasy as they played in the white stuff. The Junior-Senior Prom climaxed the fun-filled junior year. Soon, after a short summer, they would be seniors at last.

Sophs Add Spirit to Scot-land

Pin-pushing tests, skits by upperclassmen, and a guided tour through Hi Park's halls opened the doors of Scot-land to the new sophomore class.

The youngest Scots found themselves in a maze of halls, new faces, and new courses. In biology they hunted insects and bisected crayfish. They read Julius Caesar and Silas Marner. Sophs made up a large part of the cheering section at football games and pep rallies. In the spring they took part in school elections and looked forward past summer vacation to another September, which would find them seasoned, sophisticated, and not quite so scared.

Sophomores concentrate as they take the California tests.

Clan Engages in Varied Activities

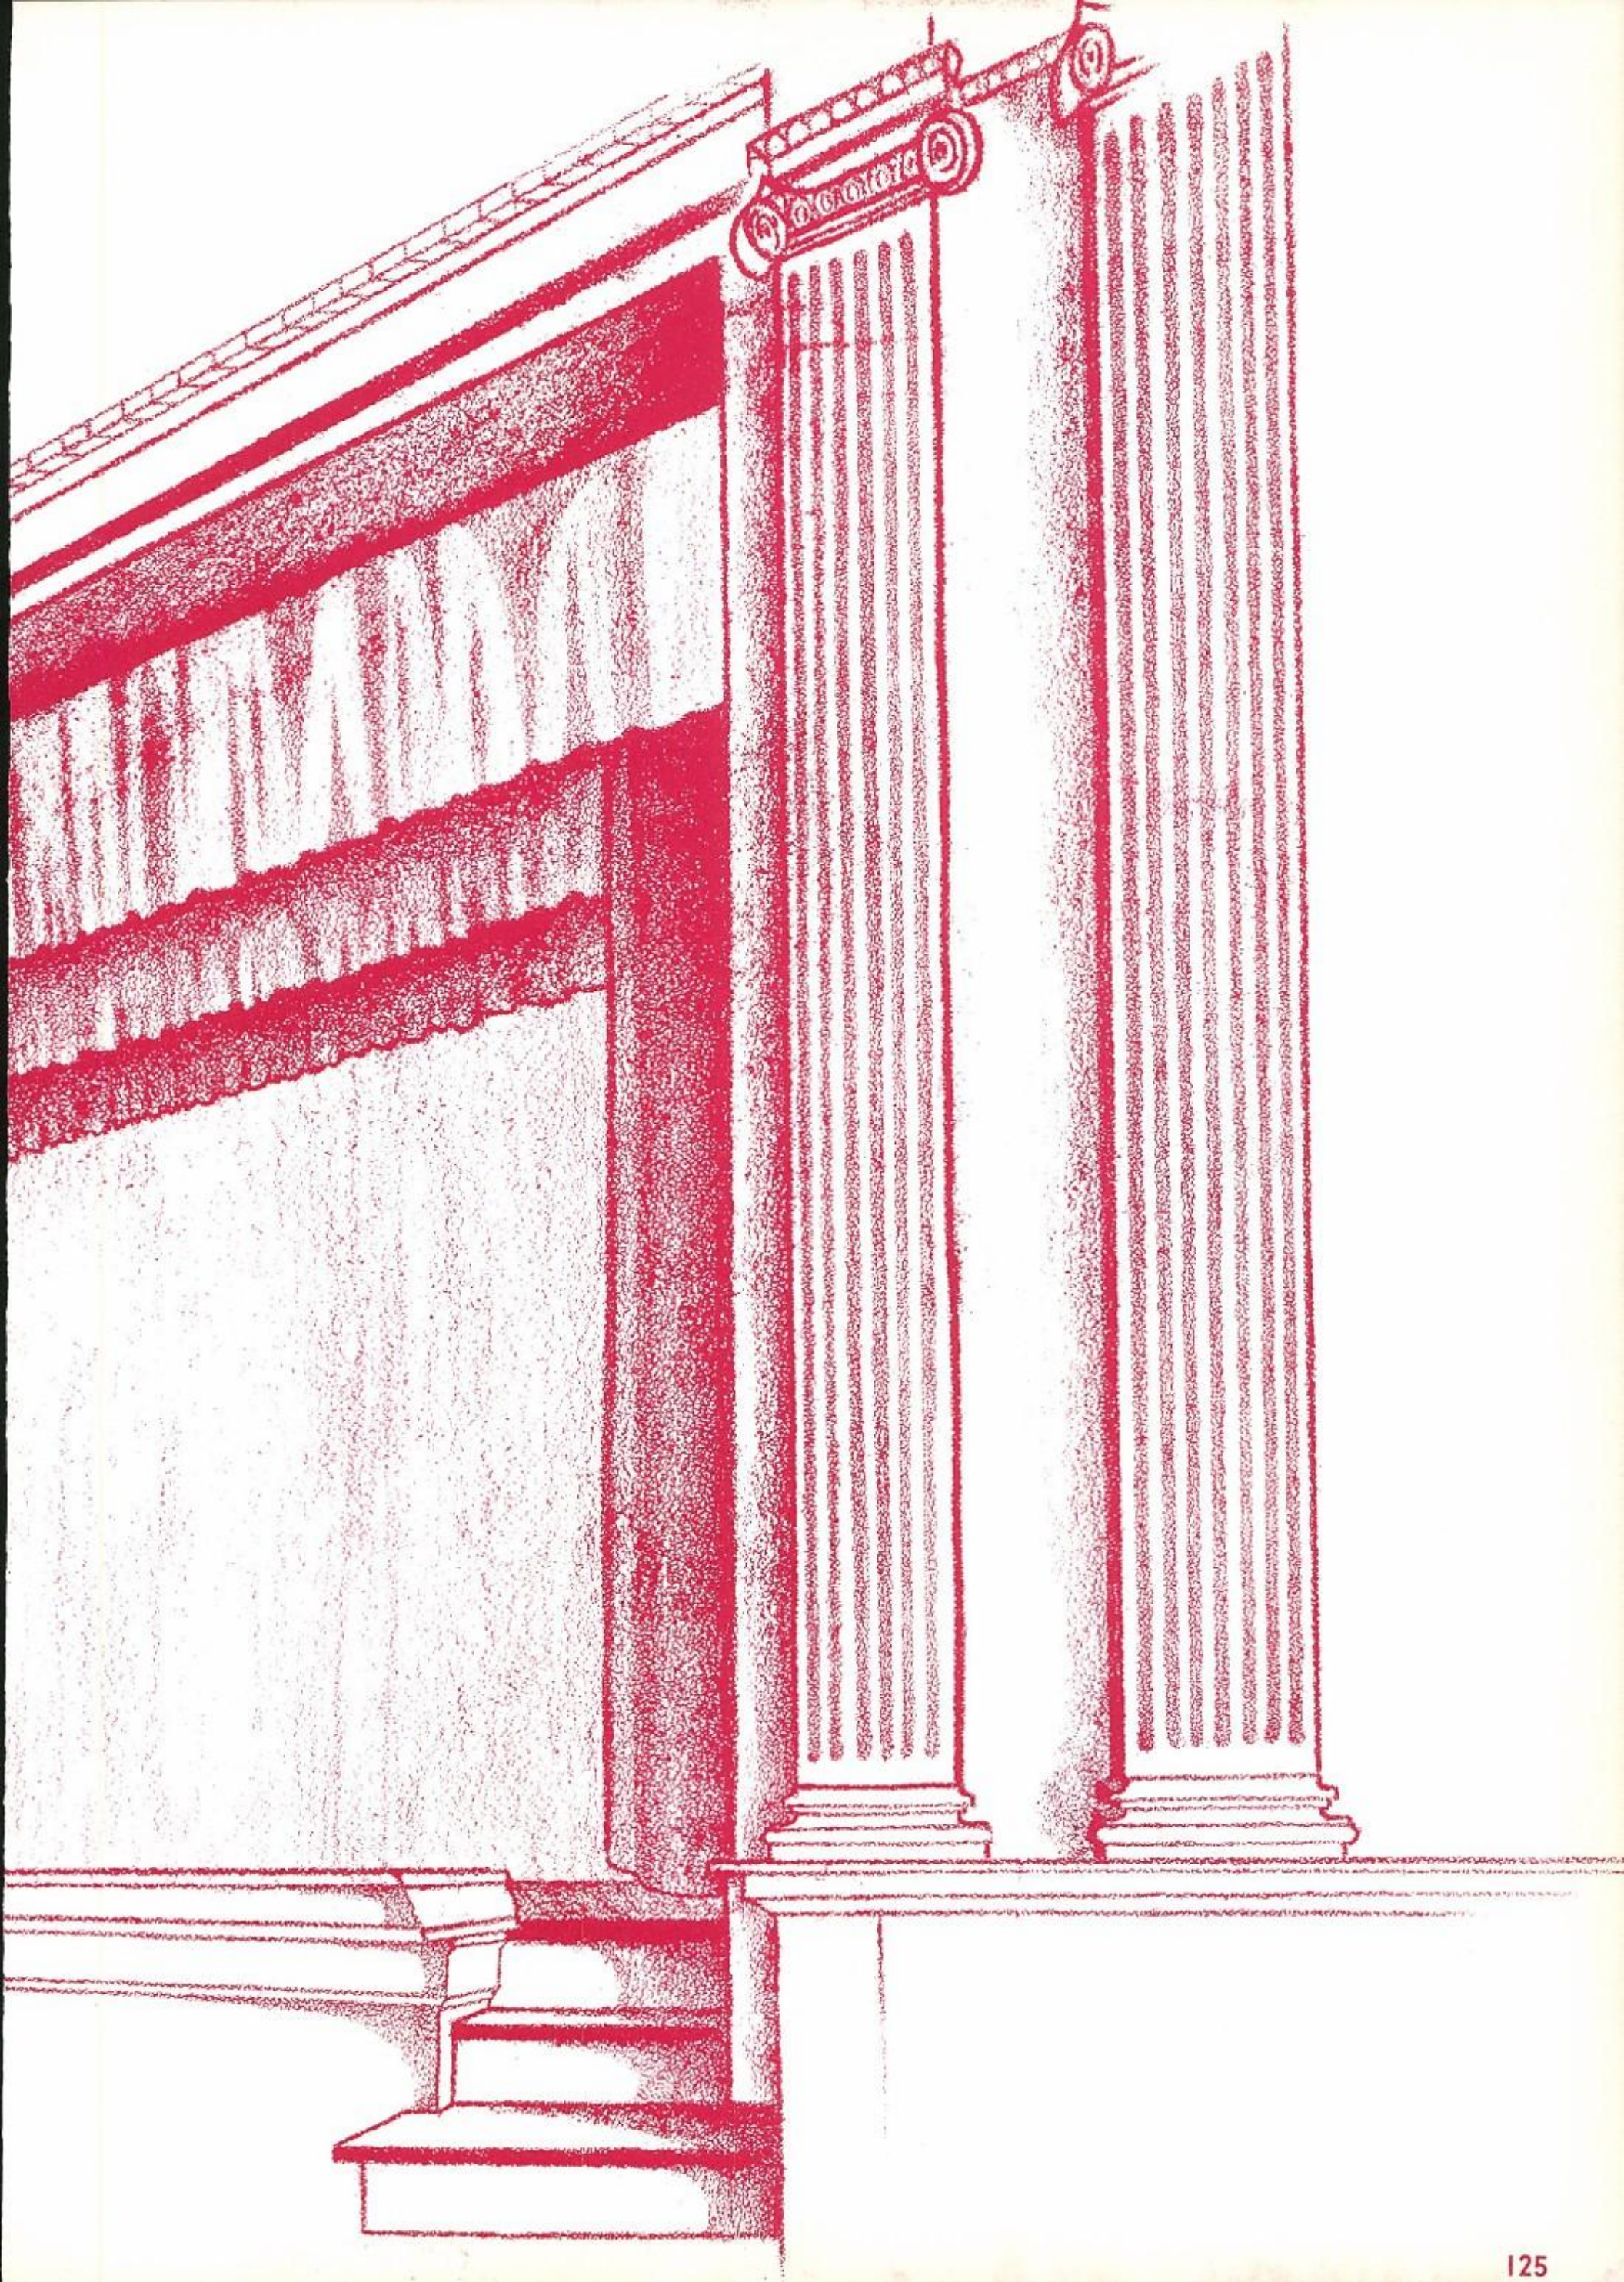

Various members of the Clan may be found meeting in the projection room, in classrooms, or in the auditoriums.

The purpose of these meetings is to give every student a chance to exhibit his talents, whether in the field of art, journalism, military tactics, music or in service to others. This opportunity is provided by the organizations and clubs at Hi Park, many of which have yearly service projects which aid the Red Cross, Wesley Community Center, Easter Seals, and local hospitals.

There are many services rendered to the school by these organizations. These may be in the form of programs, library work, or murals. A new project designed to inform students about the evils of communism was introduced by the Key Club. Instruction and experience in army procedures and practices is made available through the R.O.T.C. The Student Council enables the Clan to put into practice the principles of representative government.

Social activities are not overlooked as the Clan gathers to enjoy banquets, dances, field trips, and picnics. Through these the spirit of unity and the bonds of friendship grow stronger.

Tickets Sponsored by Council Members

"Here ye, hear ye!! Get your Hi Park charms for only a dollar in the Student Council office" was the plea as the Student Council sold the tiny bangles to raise money for Council purposes.

During football season Scot spirit was promoted by the sale of football ribbons and bus caravan tickets. A file of schedule cards for the use of teachers and students, and the publication of the Clan, a student directory, are other Student Council projects. Hi Park's representative body also backs three dances a year—the Homecoming dance, the Christmas dance, and the Junior-Senior prom.

Members for this organization are elected from second period classes at the beginning of each semester. Meeting each Monday morning, the Council also has five members-at-large, a president, and a secretary elected in the spring. The sponsors are Miss Eleanor Thornell, Mrs. Katherine Duke, and Miss Faye Ann Clinton.

Senior reps Jean Craver, Mal Urquhart, and Barbara Taylor look at their handiwork, the new Clans.

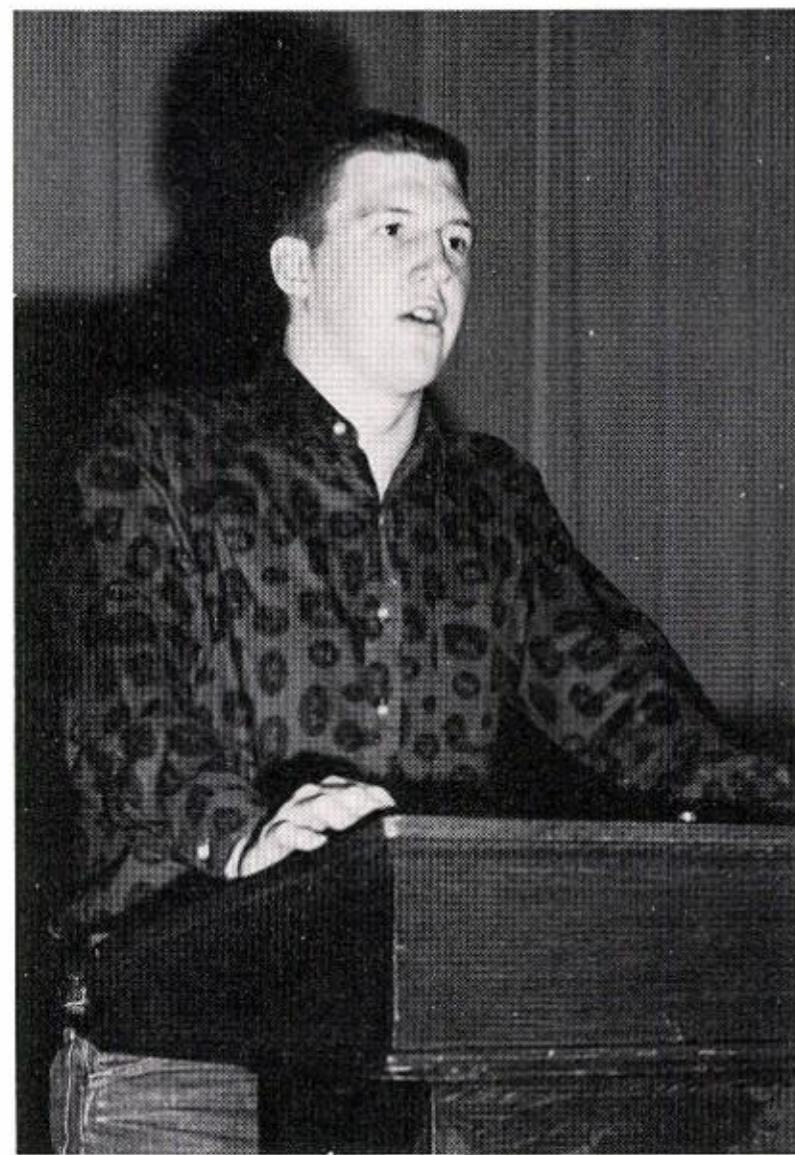

Andy Small, Mal Urquhart, Lenox McClendon, and George Otsott discuss the N.H.S. initiation.

One of the highest honors that a Scot may receive is membership in the National Honor Society. Selections of three per cent of the high junior class, seven per cent of the low senior class, and fifteen per cent of the high senior class are made by the faculty on a basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and character.

A fall banquet, spring picnic, and two initiations compose N.H.S. activities. Underclassman members also usher at commencement exercises, baccalaureate services, and the senior plays.

Each year the most outstanding boy and girl in the graduating class are presented the National Honor Society Achievement Award, more commonly known as the Blanket Award.

The Highland Park National Honor Society chapter is sponsored by Miss Mary D. Hardin.

President Andy Small calls the meeting to order.

Quill and Scroll

Ceremony Initiates New Members

"Truth, loyalty, enlightenment, opportunity, initiative, leadership, and friendship"—this is the slogan of Hi Park's honorary journalism society, Quill and Scroll. A candlelight ceremony in the spring and fall initiates new members.

Qualifications for membership are at least the classification of a junior, scholastic standing in the upper third of the class, and one semester of outstanding work on a publication.

At the beginning of the year, the members elect a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer as their officers.

At Christmas, the club sponsors a welfare project and in the spring its members attend the annual progressive dinner. Miss Mary Stewart is the sponsor of the organization.

Missy Jones and Sharon Ramsay busy themselves with the duties expected of a Quill and Scroll member.

Kay McElheny lights her candle during the initiation ceremony as George Otstott, Sandy Fernald, Sally Howell, Pat Burns, and Jean Craver look on.

Sharon Ramsay and Missy Jones clean up the Bagpipe office after the bi-weekly whirl.

s Result of Labor, Skill

Copyreading, corrections, and confusion climax two weeks of harried work as the Scots' bi-weekly paper, the Bagpipe, is produced.

The first week is titled "Ideas Week," during which assignments for stories are posted in the Bagpipe office. Some suggestions for stories are obtained from journalism classes.

The second week is "Production Week." Stories are read, reread, and finally sent to the printer. On Friday of this week the paper comes out during second period.

The Bagpipe also sponsors a journalism class called Bairns which meets every Wednesday after school during the spring semester. At the end of the sessions, the class is given a test from which the new members of the staff are chosen.

This year's Bagpipe received an All-Texas rating. The sponsor is Miss Peggy O'Sullivan.

"I'll never meet that deadline," moans Carolyn Burton.

Susy Beene, Jane Gossett, and Carolyn Burton copy-read another story.

Sally Howell and Clare Golden grin fiendishly as they put up the new assignment sheet for unsuspecting staff members.

Key Club

Key Club Develops Leadership

"Operation Abolition," an attempt of Hi Park's Key Club to inform students on controversial issues, reached its highest peak in 1960-61.

These boys, selected by their teachers as outstanding in social studies, attended the Freedom Forum and reported to the school on the twelve topics discussed.

The club was also represented at the American Institute in Brownwood. Showing the film Operation Abolition, presenting the school with a fifty-star flag, observing Constitution Week, and participating in the open house completed the Key Club schedule. Sponsors are Mr. Ralph Binnion and Mr. Leldon Blackmon.

Rusty Richards and Sam Jordan go over the speech they made to the history classes as part of "Operation Abolition."

John Niles, Jerry Clark, and Jon Carleton listen intently as George Otstott outlines a plan for "Operation Abolition."

LEFT: Amye Grady and Anne Simpson concentrate on material for the next Round Table meeting.

BELOW: Hiroshi Abe explains his viewpoint to Stuart Umpleby, Missy Jones, Diana Dotson, Rusty Richards, and other Tablers.

Religious, social, political, and national problems have served as topics for the bi-weekly discussions of Highland Park's honorary discussion group, the Round Table.

A special attraction this year was the presentation of a debate with a discussion afterwards between teams from Bryan Adams and Hillcrest high schools.

Another highlight was the study of the Christmas festivals of various countries and religions.

A faculty committee headed by the sponsor, Mrs. Jo Pettigrew, selects the Tablers from the students submitting written applications. Membership entails outside preparation for each session.

Sings for Various City Organizations

Frank "Bracket" Turner and Danny "Harbison" Olson rehearse a tense scene for the production of South Pacific.

A Christmas Program in July!!! That is exactly what the Lads and Lassies are going to present for the Dallas Trade Mart. It will be used to give the Christmas spirit to buyers who will be selecting their Christmas merchandise. The eighty-voice choir also sang for civic and garden clubs, for several Dallas hospitals, at Junior High, and for the students at Hi Park several times during the year.

The main performance for the Highland Park students was Rodgers and Hammerstein's South Pacific, given in the spring. The production was presented at Friday and Saturday night performances, plus a dress rehearsal given for Hi-Lites. The choir, under the direction of Miss Flora Lee Pope, also performed at a religious assembly, Baccalaureate services for both the January and May graduating classes, with the orchestra in its fall program, and at Open House. Other performances of the choir included the Christmas assembly and the spring program, which featured the graduating seniors.

Choir members sold Christmas cards and stationery in order to raise money for a fall "kiddy" picnic, a Christmas caroling party, and a spring banquet.

Teas, Banquets, Dances Entertain Club

Style shows, speakers, and talent shows—these are some of the programs which entertain Hi-Lites, an organization for all girls in school.

In addition to the regular Tuesday meetings, the club sponsors, as its social program, the Big-Little Sister Picnic in August, a Mother-Daughter Tea, dances in the fall and spring, and a banquet at the end of the year at which the new officers are announced.

On Saturday mornings members of the Welfare Committee work with children at the Wesley Community Center. Co-sponsorship of Religious Emphasis Week and yearly Red Cross drives round out the club's schedule.

Dances, projects, and teas are recorded in a scrapbook kept by the historian and turned in at the end of the year.

Miss Carrie Inmon, Mrs. Donna Fischer, and Mrs. Alice Cochran are the sponsors of Hi-Lites.

Meeting each Monday at activities period, this club views films and hears many speakers. Co-sponsorship of Religious Emphasis Week is the main project of the Hi-Y. Backed by the YMCA, the Hi-Y also organizes a fall dance. This year the Hi-Y, along with the Key Club, presented new Texas and American flags to the school. The club is sponsored by Mr. George Ruddell.

to Make Music Through Scot-land

As the strains of "Bali-Hai" and "Some Enchanted Evening" floated from the orchestra room, Hi Park's musicians prepared for the spring production of South Pacific. Touring neighboring colleges and universities, presenting the spring formal concert, and playing for commencement also kept the musical minded Scots busy. Twelve of the musicians were honored by being selected members of the All-State Orchestra.

Adding to the confusion of the annual candy sale was an invasion of ants. A re-order was made, however, and the sale was a success. The proceeds were used to finance social activities of the orchestra.

In addition to their musical activities, these Scots also enjoy picnics throughout the year. The annual spring banquet highlighted the orchestra's social schedule.

Susan Maxwell, Mr. Evans, Thomas Cotton, and Robert Cohenour test the new receiver before putting it to use.

President John Niles inspects the cards of the stations which the Radio Club has contacted.

One way to a man's heart may be through his stomach, but the way to his pocketbook lies along the same path, or so the few girls in Hi Park's Radio Club discovered. When members of the club began contributing their spare radio equipment to an auction to raise money for the club, the girls made and sold cookies at the meetings.

Guided by their sponsor, L. M. Evans, the Radio Club this year bought a new receiver and put up a beam antenna. They made field trips to the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and to Continental Electronics.

Library Council

Librarians Serve Clan Members

Behind the desk in the library a theme-ridden Scot will find ready and capable help from a member of the Library Council. Twenty-five to thirty students of high scholastic standing assist the entire faculty and student body in Hi Park's school library. Each library assistant is assigned certain tasks which he carries out with pride and ability.

Anyone who works as a library staff member is scheduled to work during his study hall and receives no credit other than the knowledge he gains and a skill that he may use in college as well as adult life.

The Library Council presently boasts ten ex-members in library school, four of whom are on scholarships.

During Half-Time of Pro Football Game

Participating in a new type of TV western last fall, the Highlander Band marched in a half-time display when the Dallas Cowboys and the Baltimore Colts fought it out on the field.

Keeping Scot spirit at its high pitch, the band also had a busy schedule. There were early rehearsals before school, a halftime show nearly every week, and pep rallies. The band was also locally televised when it participated in the Cotton Bowl Parade on January 2. Directed by Col. Harry Barton, the band gave assemblies at Junior High and the elementary schools.

To offer relaxation for members, a fall picnic, a Christmas dance, and a spring banquet were held. Since the marching band is a branch of Hi Park's ROTC, its members also attended military functions held throughout the school year.

From teaching elementary students to exploring plastic surgery—Hi Park's two career clubs, Future Teachers and Future Nurses, assist ambitious Scots in an intensive study of teaching and nursing as professions.

In their monthly meetings the Future Teachers instruct other Scots, see films, and hear panel discussions in order to learn more about the teaching profession. In the spring, seniors of the group attend elementary schools in the Highland Park system where they observe classes for half a day. Miss Hortense Watkins guides the aspiring Scots in finding the rewards and drawbacks of teaching.

Sponsored by Miss Julia Bartosh, the Future Nurses hold discussions and enjoy movies on such medically related fields as psychiatry, posture, missionary health work, and the evils of drug addiction. Affiliated with the Texas Association of Future Nurses' Clubs, Hi Park's chapter is the largest in Texas.

Artists Bring German Carvings to Hi Park

From a village in the Black Forest of Germany to Highland Park—this was the journey traveled by wood carvings bought by Hi Park's Art Club to add to the art masterpiece already owned by the club. The carvings will be used by the art classes for the study of art forms and for the pleasure of the whole school.

The Art Club provides a common meeting place for all those interested in art, whether or not they are enrolled in art classes. Founded at Hi Park in 1936, the Art Club, sponsored by Mrs. Mattie Childress, also emphasizes and aids individual creativeness. Field trips to museums and art galleries are among its activities.

Girls Journey Through Past and Present

Texas and "Big D" are the main subjects which the Junior Historical Society members study through films, slides, and speakers, which entertain them and supplement their knowledge of the Lone Star State.

While the Junior Historical Society is concerned with this immediate area, Travel Club members learn of people in other lands and countries through armchair tours. The members also journey to foreign places through viewing films and listening to speakers.

Sponsoring a needy family at Christmas and an Easter project constitute the welfare work of the clubs. This year the Travel Club also collected medicine bottles for a children's center.

Both clubs, sponsored by Mrs. Dorothy Daniel, meet once each month. Membership is open to all girls in school interested in participating.

Behind the walls of clicking typewriters and muffled voices, the industrious members of the Highlander staff work to put out a top-ranking yearbook.

To this group of Scots, snapshots, writing copy, making layouts, and meeting deadlines are only a part of the hectic, yet thoroughly satisfying job of working on the Highlander.

The success of the annual depends upon the staff which is selected by Miss Diane Cook, the sponsor, and the editor. Any student may apply for a position in the spring, and those who seem most capable on the basis of grades, teachers' recommendations, dependability, and cooperation are chosen.

Held during the fall at Denton, the Texas High School Press Association Convention offers delegates the opportunity to learn new techniques and exchange good ideas. This year George Otstott had the honor of presiding over the convention, a position to which he was elected the preceding year. Here the 1960 Highlander was chosen the best in Texas in its class. Last year's annual was also awarded the titles of All-American, A+ Honor Rating, and First Place in other contests.

Lending a martial air to the Fall and Spring Regimental Balls, the Drill Team serves as honor guard for the ROTC Queens. Performing in inter-school competition and drilling during federal inspection are also duties of the Drill Team. Cadets are selected for the Drill Team on the basis of outstanding appearance within their company and ability to give and receive commands. The Drill Team, directed by S.F.C. Sharp, is officially named the Grenadier Guards.

Under the supervision of M/Sgt. Stringfield, the Rifle Team competes in local, state, and national matches. The "crack-shots" of the ROTC are chosen for their ability with a rifle and a good record in their own company. At the end of the year letter jackets are presented to outstanding members of the Rifle Team.

Clan Members Support Athletic Teams

Friendly competition teaches good sportsmanship, loyalty to one's school, and respect for a worthy opponent. All of these attributes are evident whenever the Clan gathers on the athletic field.

Whether the sport is football, basketball, baseball, swimming, track, tennis, or golf, it is supported by the whole school. Those who do not take an active part in athletics contribute by being enthusiastic spectators both at home and away. Bus caravans make it possible for the Clan to be well represented at the out-of-town football games.

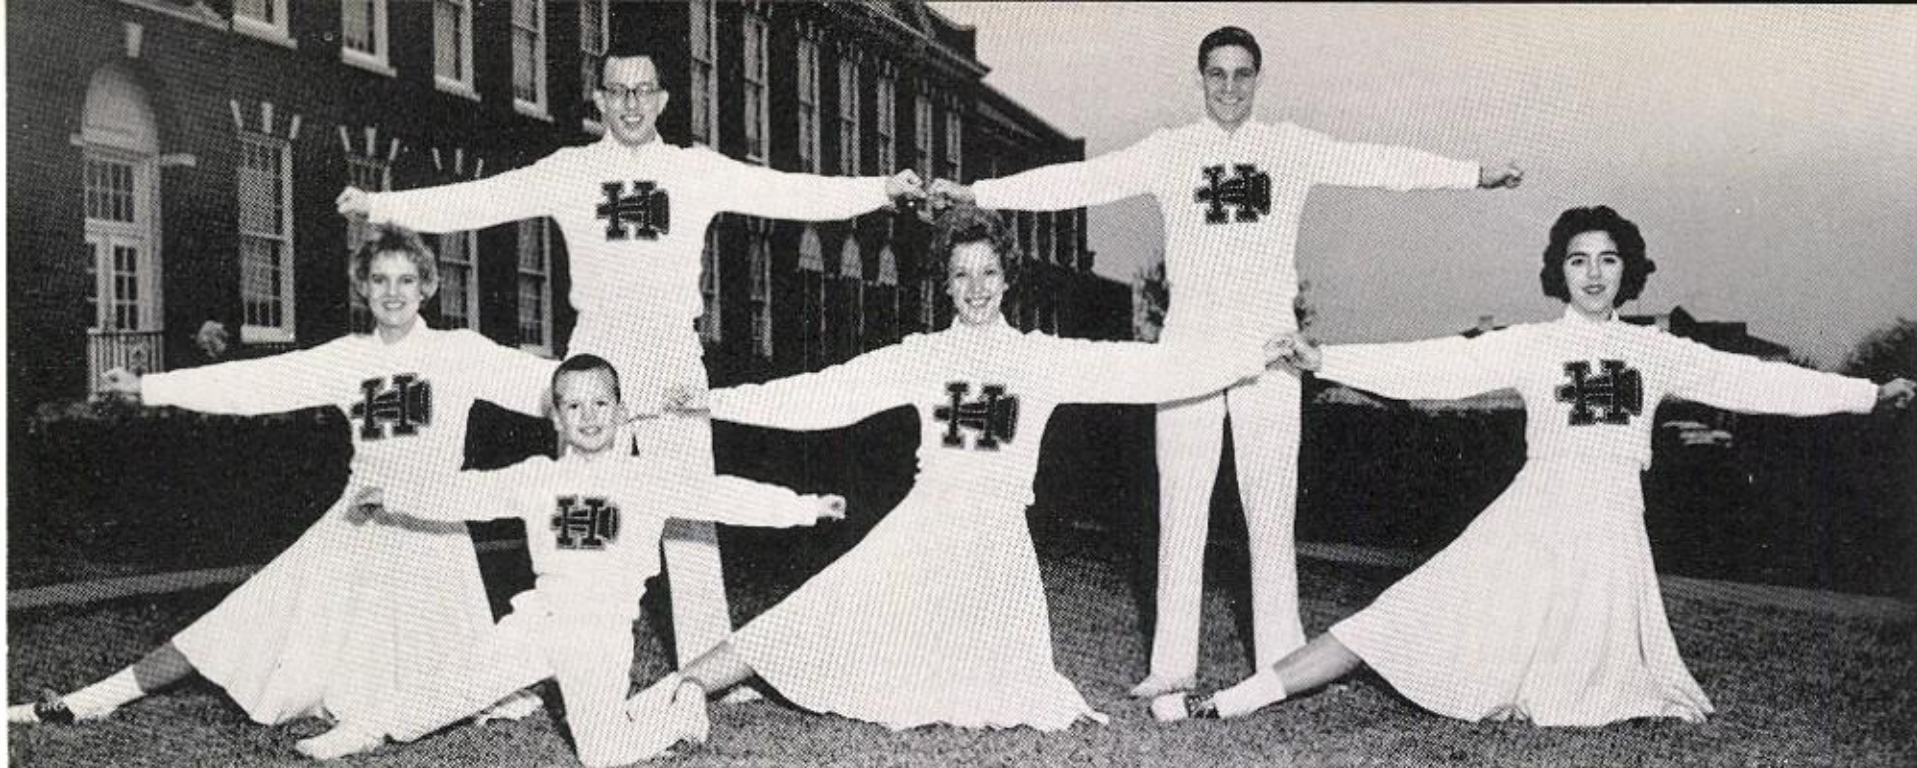

Scot spirit is heightened by the pep rallies held at activities period and occasionally after school. In these pep rallies the student body has a chance to show its backing of the team.

The basis of girls' sports is an extensive intramural program. Teams in tenniquoits, basketball, volleyball, and softball vie in after-school competition. Individual matches are held in ping-pong and badminton. At the end of the year, gym medals are awarded to those girls who have maintained a perfect attendance record.

Hi Park's all-round athletic program is designed not only to teach the basic skills but also to promote sportsmanship and fair play.

Cheerleaders rehearse "Fight, Scots" before a pep rally.

Cheerleaders Spur Teams to Victory

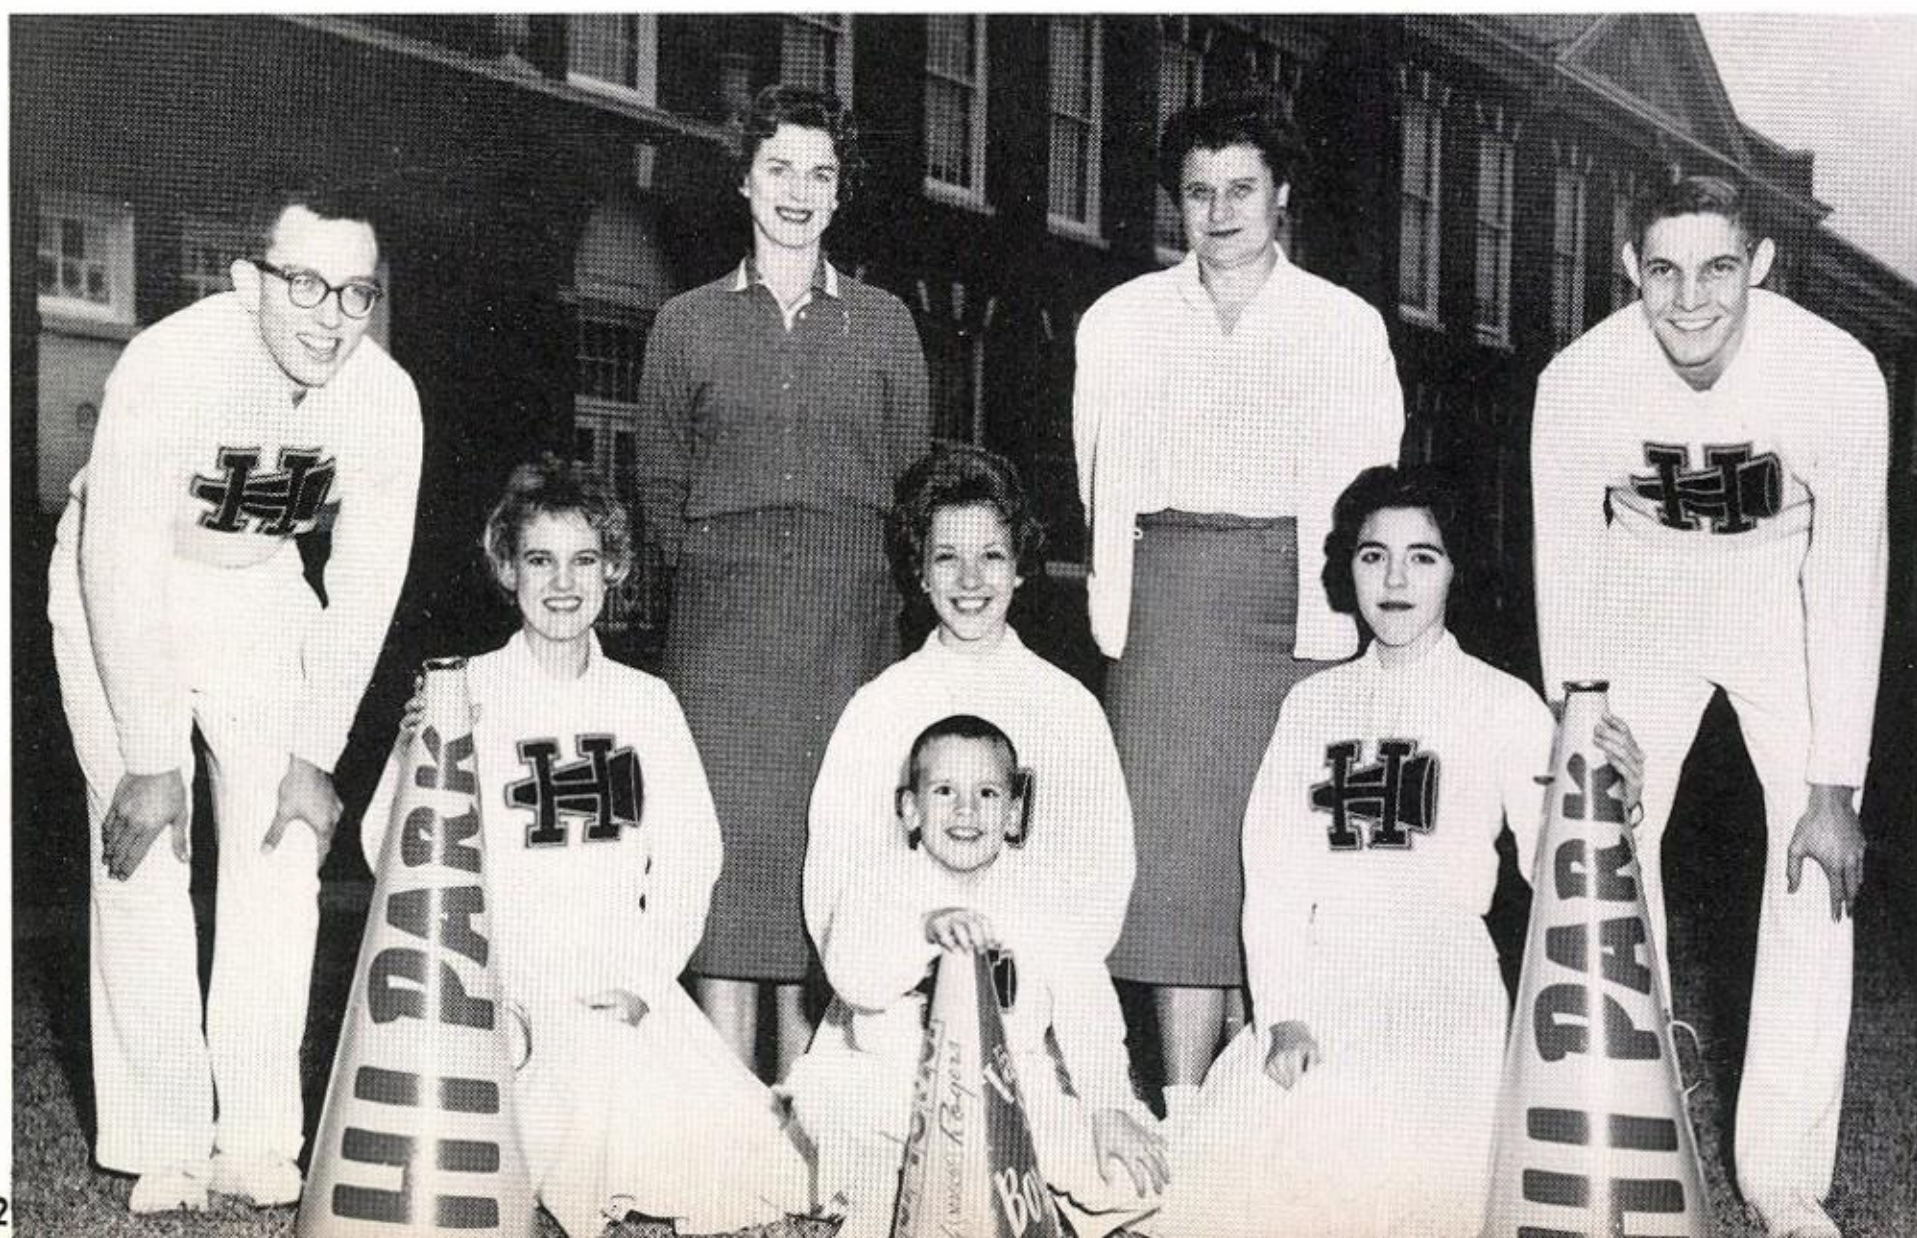

Life as a Hi Park cheerleader is not all glamour, for many hours of hard work at planning and practicing are put in before each pep rally and game.

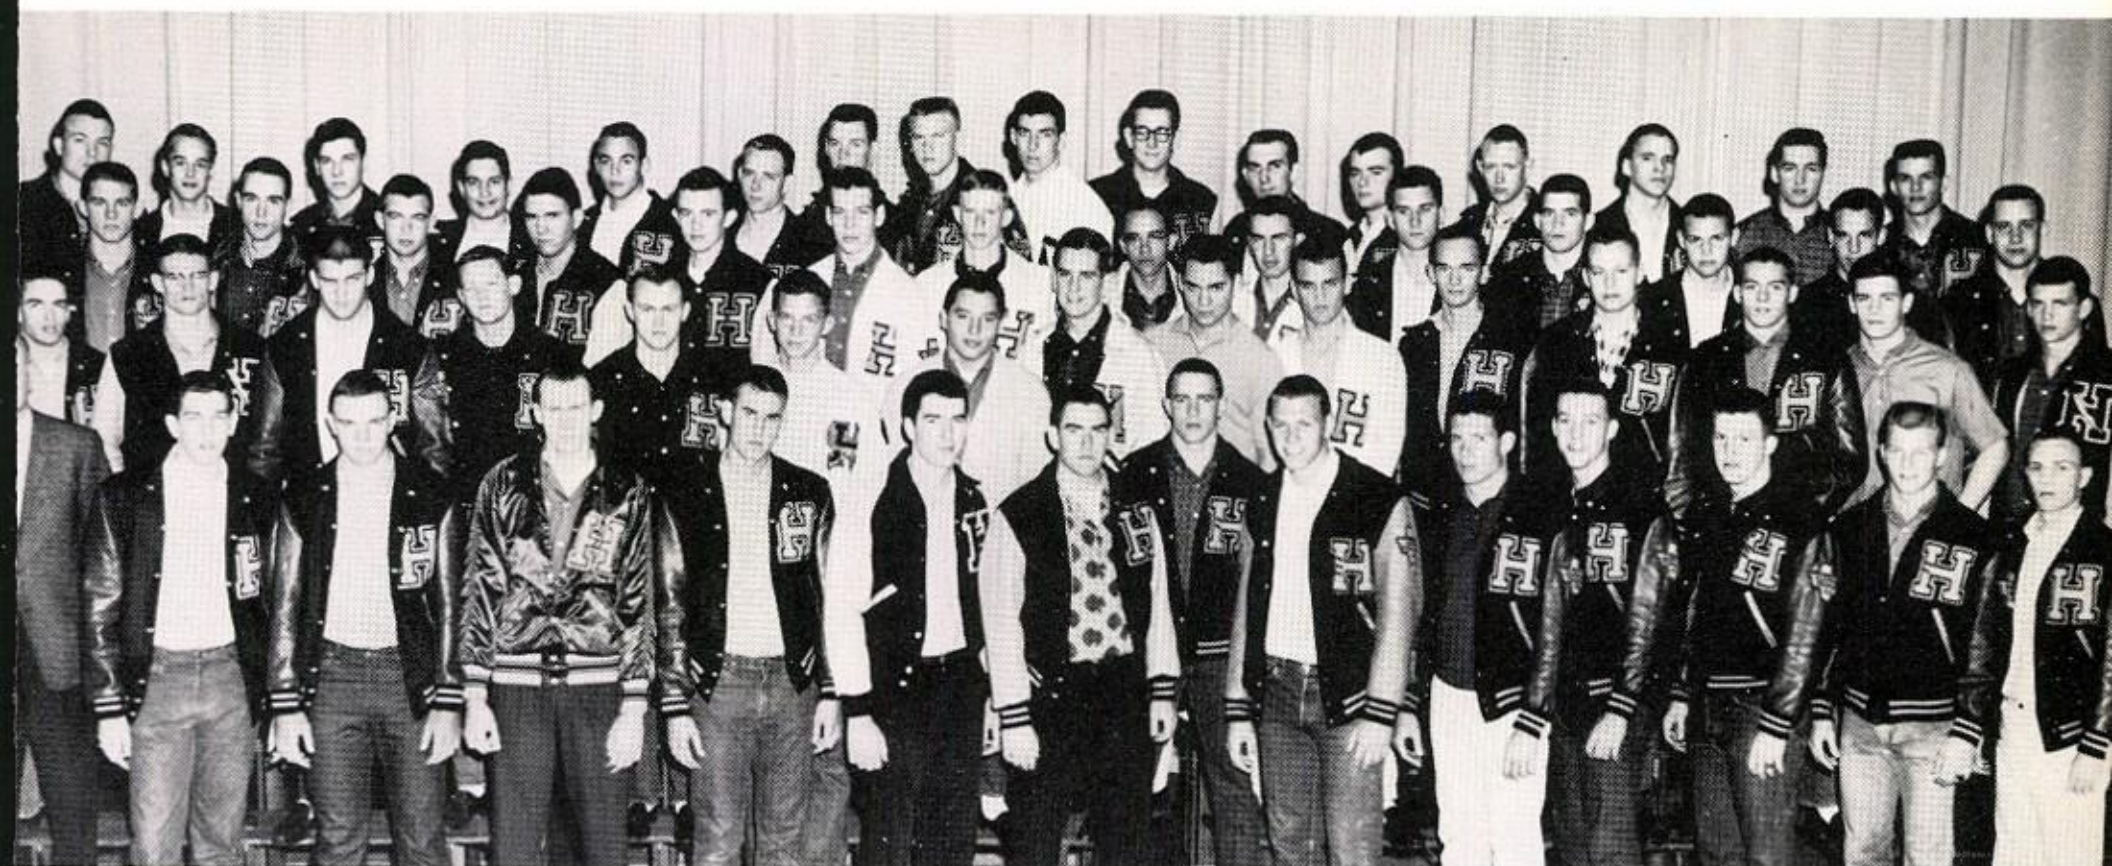

All cheerleaders must spend most of the summer in becoming proficient at the art of directing yells and encouraging athletic teams. Another duty of the cheerleaders is decorating the goal posts before each home game. Sponsors Mrs. Gynne Manson and Miss Jayne Murchison advise and counsel the cheerleaders.

Each year the cheerleaders select a mascot, usually the little brother or sister of one of the cheerleaders; this year's mascot, Mitch Rogers, attended the pep rallies and games and aided in leading the yells and boosting Scot spirit.

Clansmen Round Out 1960

Coaches Ernie Kennedy, Jerry Culp, Red Rutledge, John Naylor, and Jim Tolar.

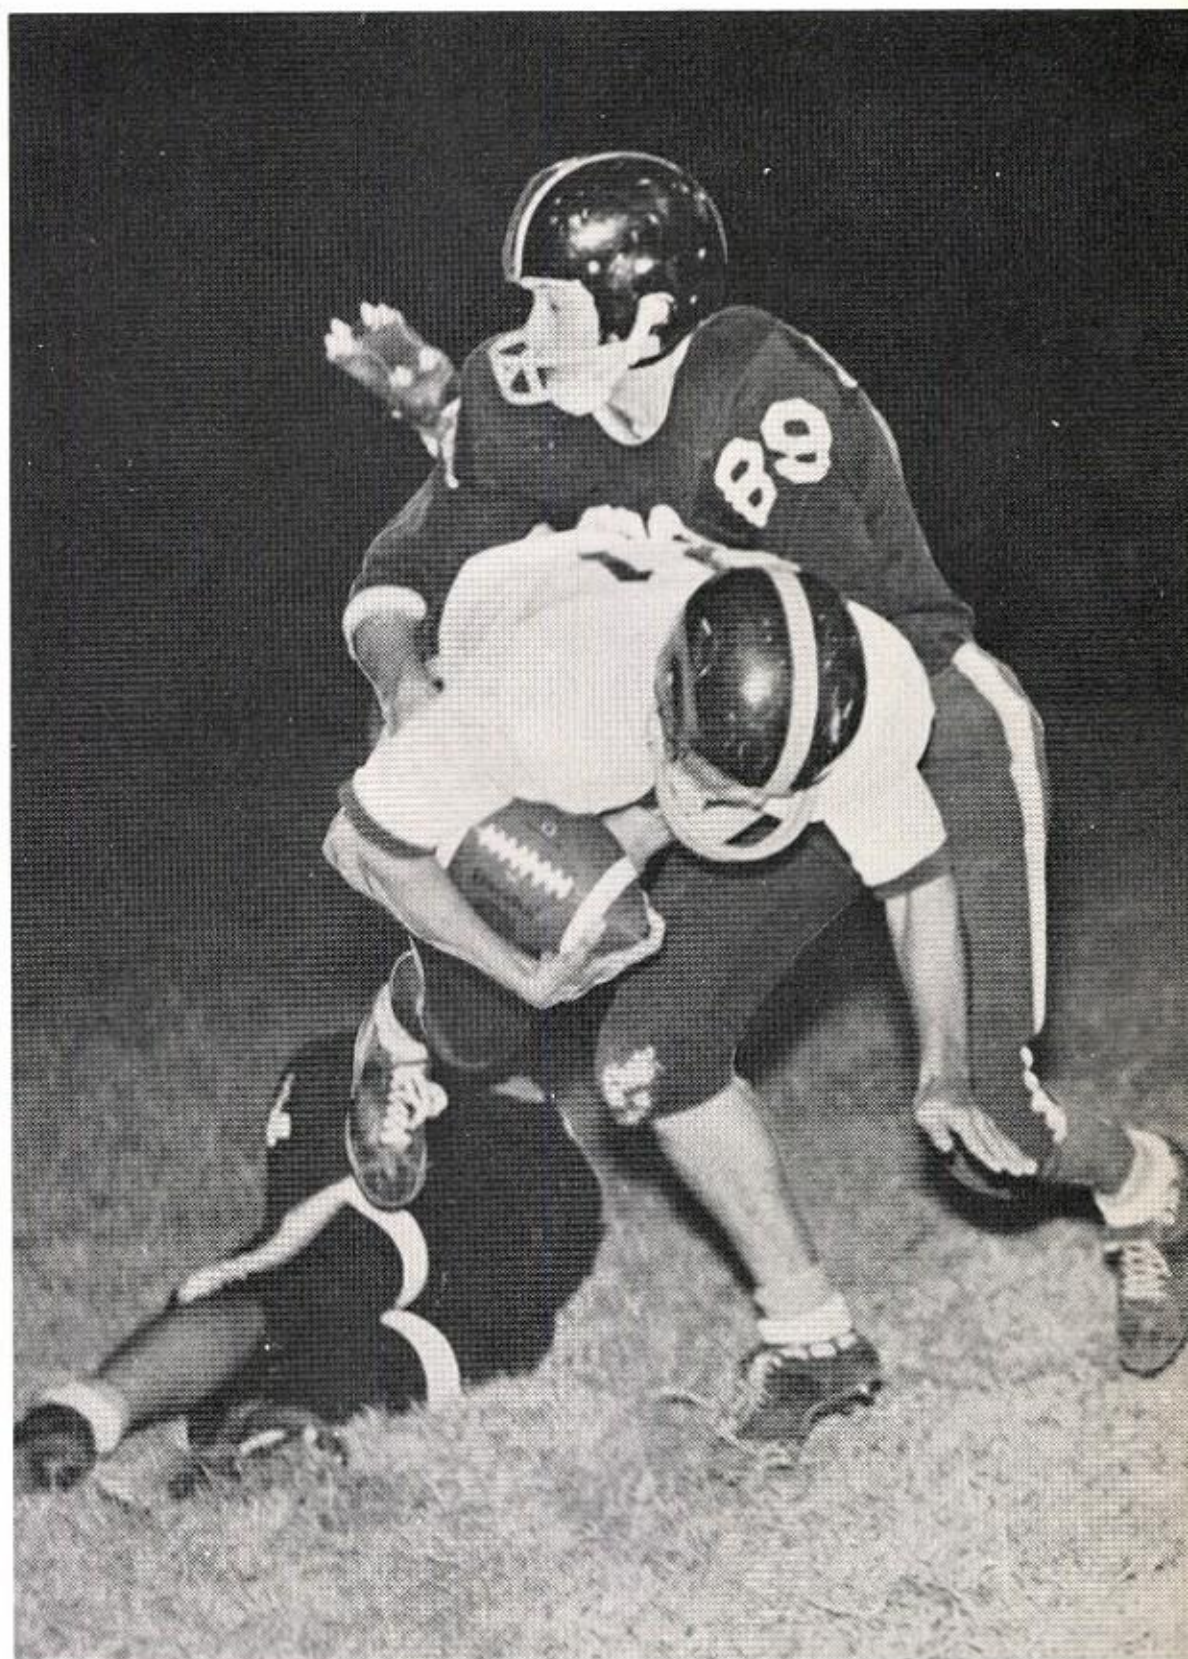

"Double, double, toil and trouble" was the chant of the Highland Park football squad during daily workouts as they brewed up their winning team for the 1960 gridiron season. The toil and trouble were not in vain, however, as the Golden Avalanche finished the season with a fine 8-1-1 record.

Highland Park started off its 1960 season by rolling over the Thomas Jefferson Rebels 27-0. Captain Danny Thomas' passes, along with the combined efforts of Mike Fussell and John Roderick, who went for three touchdowns, highlighted the season's opener.

The next team to face the Golden Avalanche was the Grand Prairie Gophers. The Prairie-men put up a stiff fight, but came under the ax late in the fourth quarter when Bridges Ballowe intercepted a Gopher pass on Hi Park's twelve-yard line and raced all the way back to put Hi Park decisively ahead 22-13.

Hi Park's "never-say-die" Scots came through with two late tallies to pull out a victory over a fired-up Hillcrest team. Scot spirit was never dampened throughout the rain-soaked game as the team came from behind with a late fourth-quarter score from Danny Thomas to defeat the Panthers 26-21.

The Scots completely outplayed the Arlington Heights Yellow Jackets in the state's only game matching AAAA powers unbeaten and untied up to that point in the season. The Clansmen played one of their best games in routing out the Yellow Jackets 38-0. Outstanding play was exhibited by Mike Fussell, who intercepted two passes, and by Bill Robertson, who, aided by the savage blocking of Buddy Harris, added one more touchdown by returning a forty-three yard punt.

Danny Thomas is finally halted by the Garland defense.

Again Highland Park left its opposition scoreless with an 18-0 triumph over Paschal of Fort Worth. Accounting for the tallies were Danny Thomas, Reagan Dixon, and John Roderick, who sprinted ninety-three yards for a score.

Scot spirit was never as high as when the team journeyed to Corpus Christi to hand Ray its fourth defeat and to avenge last year's upset by the satisfying score of 21-14.

In this last pre-district game the Clansmen sharpened their offensive and defensive talons in preparation for the district opener with Denton.

The Golden Avalanche devoured Denton with a score of 26-13 in the first game of district action. Outstanding players were Lindley Myers, who turned in an impressive 102 yards rushing, and Danny Thomas, who uncorked a long fifty-three yard pass to David Hildebrand for the third TD.

Scots Take Third Place in District

The second game of district play, in which Sherman edged the hard-fighting Scots 21-20, put an end to the Clan's long and impressive winning streak. Accounting for the Scot's twenty-point lead in the third quarter were Danny Thomas' TD run, Mike Fussell's seventy-one yard punt return, and a twenty-seven yard pass to Bill Robertson. However, after two quick touchdowns, a successful onside kick, and another score, Sherman went ahead 21-20 with less than a minute remaining.

Danny Thomas stiff-arms his way through the Garland defending line.

High-Scoring Clansmen Surpass

For the 1960 Homecoming game the Scotsmen presented the student body with a resounding defeat of Denison, 29-0. Outstanding play was turned in by the forward wall of the Scot line, comprised of seniors Andy Small, Red Rutledge, Buddy Putty, Jimmy Lavender, and Buddy Harris, while Danny Thomas scampered fifty-seven yards for the first TD and threw a twenty-one yard pass to David Hildebrand for the last one. Harold Cooper and John Roderick accounted for the intervening fourteen points.

The Highland Park Scots wound up the 1960 football season in a hard-fought game with Garland resulting in a 14-14 tie. This deadlock ended the Golden Avalanche's bid for the District 7AAAA crown and meant the end of another chapter in the Highland Park football record. This chapter could not have been complete without the pep assemblies, ribbon sales, Blue-Gold Day, and the afternoon rallies which helped keep Scot spirit at a high peak, or without the student body and fans who always turned out to watch the outstanding play exhibited by the Golden Avalanche in every game.

Scot roundballers dribbled and shot their way through a 13-11 season this year, as the cagers learned many valuable lessons from both their victories and defeats. The preseason play showed great potential as the Scots were victorious over their first four contenders. North Side, Woodrow Wilson, and Arlington Heights all came under the ax of the Blue-and-Gold in these contests.

Further experience for district play was gained at the Austin tournament, where the Scots reached the final playoffs before being defeated. Here Hi Park defeated Austin's McCallum, 48-43, and Johnson, 49-47, before bowing to a strong Alamo Heights squad, 60-56.

Top Scot Cagers Named to

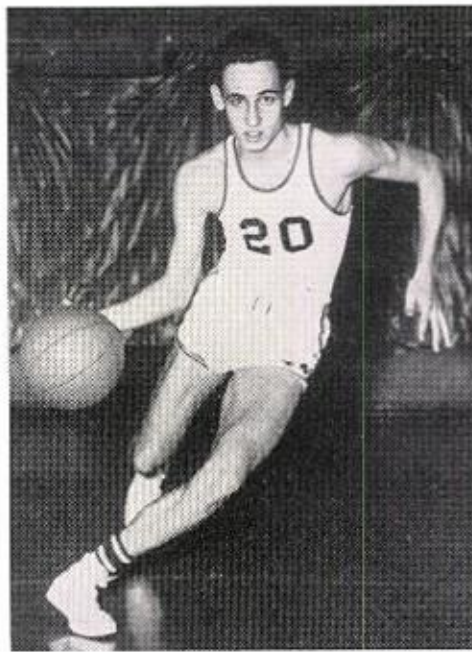

After an unsuccessful encounter with Hillcrest resulting in a 3-point defeat for the Scots, the Blue-and-Gold squad went on to defeat Slidell, Crozier Tech, and Woodrow Wilson before suffering a 57-45 loss to South Oak Cliff in the semifinals of the Dr. Pepper Tournament. Barry Levy, who hit for 81 points, Carey Brooks, who scored 75 and Jack Davis, who led the rebounding, dominated tournament play.

The Scots, who had their share of bad breaks in the season with ankle injuries suffered by the two captains, Ronnie Siler and Ben Kerr, completed their pre-district action with a 54-47 win over Temple and prepared to encounter Denison.

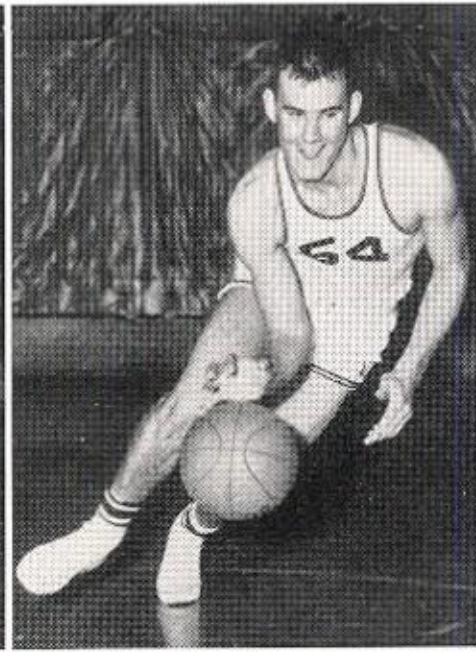

The District 7-AAAA curtain rose on a Hi Park basketball squad which showed promising form. The cagers defeated Denison as district play began to unroll. In this contest the Clansmen showed their strength in coming from behind to outscore the Yellow Jackets 56-30. At Sherman the following week, the tables were turned on the Scots as they were handed their first defeat in the form of a 7-point loss. In the following two clashes, the roundballers were overcome by Denton, who later became district champ, and Garland. A breather in the rush of district action was provided by an encounter with the Rebels of Thomas Jefferson. By emerging with a 64-57 victory, the Clansmen were able to avenge their earlier defeat. Ronnie Siler, Barry Levy, and Troy Quigley provided much of the groundwork for the team's success in this encounter.

All-District Teams

Back on the district scene, the Cagers were able to gain revenge on Sherman by crushing them 54-50, but were later put down by Denton 87-60. Then in an unsuccessful attempt against the Owls of Garland, the Scots ended their season with a 3-5 district won-lost record, because Denison had forfeited a game to Hi Park.

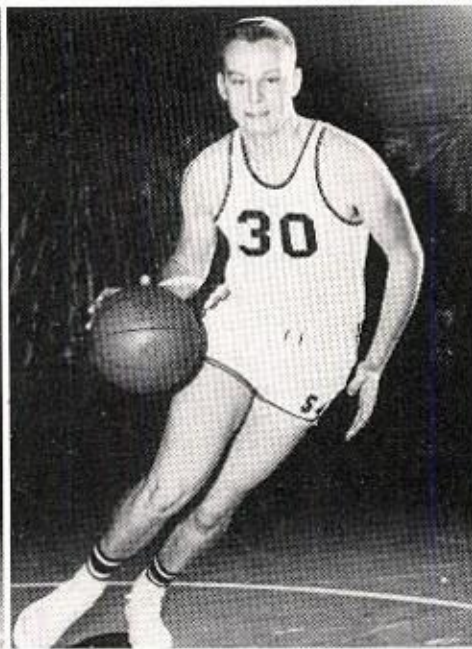

The 1960-61 season saw the Clansmen evolve a 13-11 record, qualify thirteen lettermen, and place third in district standings. Netter Carey Brooks was placed on the All-District squad, and Barry Levy made the All-District second team.

Practice and team effort have gone into the making of the 1961 Scot baseball squad. Seven lettermen, an All-District pitcher—Danny Thomas—and expert leadership by Coach Ernie Kennedy serve to complete the picture.

In the season opener the Diamondsmen upset Kimball 4 to 1. Later Highland Park was tied by Woodrow Wilson 4 to 4. Thomas Jefferson overcame the Scots with a score of 5 to 3; but in a retaliatory effort Hi Park handed a defeat to Grand Prairie, resulting in a 4-3 score as the Scots moved into further pre-district and district play in March.

Many promising newcomers have been added to this season's squad. Larry Bell, Robert Nichols, and Larry Waldrep perform well in the high jump, while the shot-put duties are left to first-year men Corky Barton, Buddy Harris, and Buddy Putty.

Returning from last year, lettermen Dean Alvord, Don Haroz, and Eric Rosoff compete in their respective events: high jump, pole vault, and discus.

In their first match the Scots were edged by Athens by a slim 5-4 margin, but they retaliated against Denton with a $5\frac{1}{2}$ - $1\frac{1}{2}$ win.

Future outings for the chargers will include a state-wide tournament at Fort Worth, the Galveston Tournament, the Brownwood Tournament in March, and the District, Regional, and State Meets in April.

Swimmers Set National Records

Record books are rapidly being filled this year through the outstanding abilities of Richard and David Quick and newcomer Ricky Nesbit.

This year Richard Quick has posted in six different strokes winning times which are likely to stand up for All-American recognition. His brother David has posted winning times in four meets. Sophomore Ricky Nesbit tied the national record in the backstroke.

The Scots have been further aided in acquiring honors by the team's eleven lettermen. These swimmers defeated the Texas University Freshmen, the University of Corpus Freshmen, and the S.M.U. Freshmen.

Practicing through winter months when snow skirmishes might have been more appropriate than tennis matches, the girls' tennis squad made ready for early spring competition.

Good weather, however, found Coach Raymond Akin's squad ready to uphold their outstanding record. Becky Gould and Virginia Davis led the team by winning the Polar Bear Tournament in Wichita Falls. The girls, who have won all but two matches, are hoping to take district and regional, with the ultimate goal of taking state.

Susy Beene, Lenox McClendon, and Diane Andrews have also kept the team in high standing. Diane, a sophomore, has been playing in the number three slot and is expected to do even better next year.

To qualify as a team member one must participate in round robin tournaments at the first of the year. Team placement is also determined by these matches.

Those chosen are given patches signifying the sport while the number of years that a girl "letters" is noted from the color of the patch. Gold charms are awarded the girls on the winning team.

G.A.A., which was established in 1957, is an organization that strives to promote interest in girls' sports and give recognition to those who have outstanding qualities such as leadership, sportsmanship, and teamwork. The teams are sorted by classes; and their captains are expected to watch over team workouts, see that all meets run smoothly, and give all entry blanks to the head coach, Miss Jean Shankle.

After competing in two meets and taking several tests, girls are selected for G.A.A. These girls compete in a meet consisting of eleven events and the winners receive gold charms.

Round Robin Tourneys Lead to Playoffs

Intramural teams carefully plan and practice their strategy against opponents in after-school games. Girls may choose their own teams and preference of Monday-Wednesday or Tuesday-Thursday leagues.

Fall activities lead off with elimination or round robin tournaments in ping pong, tenniquoits, and basketball. Members choose colorful and imaginative names for their basketball teams. With the spring semester come volleyball, badminton and softball. At the end of each sport, playoffs are held between the winning teams in each league. The champions of each sport are invited to a luncheon sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association at the end of the school year.

All girls are eligible to participate in this intramural program, and girls who have met required attendance standards receive medals at the end of the year.

All-Star Teams Victorious Over

At the beginning of each semester teams are chosen in all the gym classes. These teams then compete among themselves in games of tenniquoits, speedball, basketball, volleyball, and softball to determine a class winner. This winning team then represents the class in after-school playoffs until one remains undefeated.

Simultaneously several outstanding players are selected to form an all-star team from their class. The winner of this tournament then plays the class winners' champion to see who will be top on the list. The winner of this bout is declared champion in that particular sport for that year.

This program promotes good spirit, sportsmanship, and good times for all interested girls.

Community Aids School by Advertising

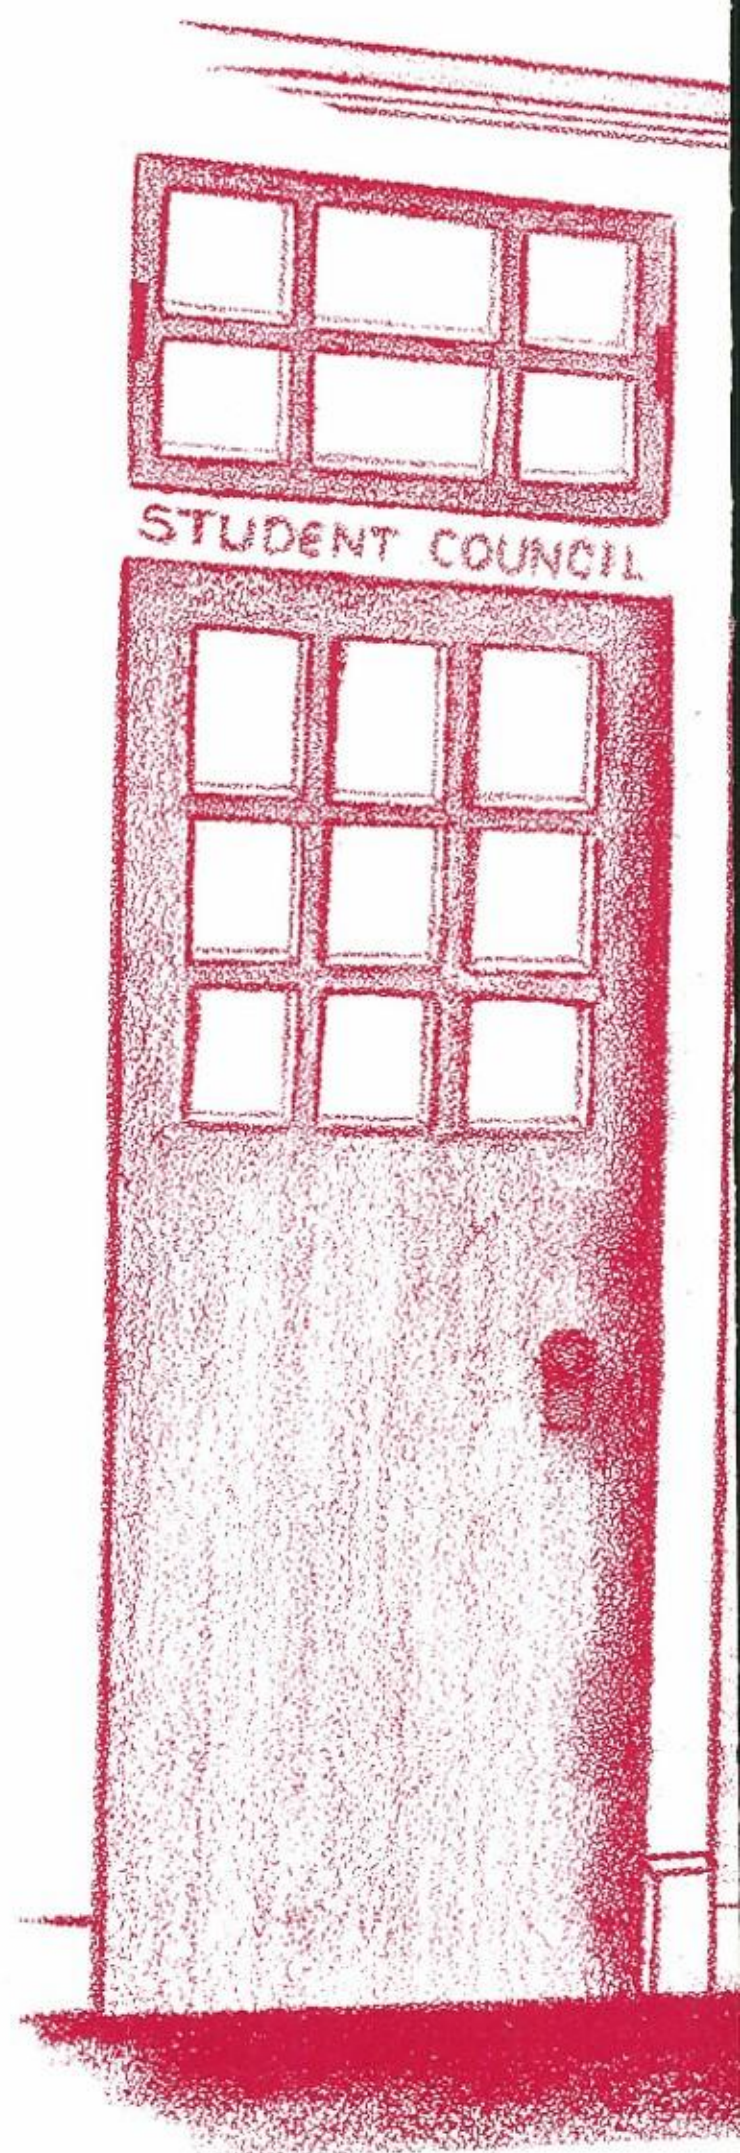

Close relationships between the school and the community are established by the advertising staff. The members of this group work year round soliciting ads throughout the community, collecting copy, and taking pictures.

Starting to work in the summer, ad salesmen cover their assigned districts, urging each merchant to contribute to the school and to his own business by placing an advertisement in the Highlander. Besides helping Hi Park, a subscriber can be sure that he will benefit from the wide circulation of the annual.

Another important job of the business staff is taking orders for the Highlander from the student body. Posters containing information about the annual are made and exhibited by a special committee. Announcements are also given to remind Clansmen of the order deadline.

In the spring, after all the advertisements have been turned in, the staff lays out the section and collects the bills.

Cooperation is important in any undertaking, and this quality is evident in the functioning of the Highlander business staff.

March Features

March winds blew up a storm of activities at Hi Park. Before the opening of the baseball season, the Student Council organized its annual sanding party to make the bleachers smooth in preparation for the first game which was played against Kimball High School March 1.

The halls of Hi Park took on the appearance of a political rally with campaign posters everywhere. Clever skits were presented at the elections assembly held March 1. Results of the school-wide election were announced the Friday before dismissal for Easter vacation.

After a week of rest from the routine of school—filled with Easter egg hunts, term-theme-writing, trips, and many other pastimes—Scots returned to Hi Park refreshed and ready for work once again.

Pam Stufflebeme introduces herself in the Campaign Assembly March 21.

Elections, Holidays

One hundred industrious students enrolled in Bairns, a class studying the basic fundamentals of journalism, in hopes of becoming members of the Bagpipe Staff. Miss Peggy O'Sullivan, Bagpipe sponsor, taught the class, which met from 3 to 4 o'clock every Wednesday.

"Whatever is the Quill and Scroll coming to?" jokes Sally Howell as she hands a membership card to sister Susie Howell and Anne Mercer. Other new members are Shirley Betty, Jack Calmes, Martha Carlson, and Gayla Tyson. Juniors admitted were Sandra Allen, Nancy Arnold, Kathy Holden, Susie Howell, Marsha Kinnamon, Anne Simpson, Gerri Smyser, and Pam Stufflebene.

Romantic April Brings

April was awirl with numerous dances and banquets. The Hi-Lite Dance with its theme of "Where the Boys Are" started a new precedent by the crowning of Hi-Lite King, Billy Hightower.

Another Lads and Lassies "Spectacular" was created for their banquet as they transformed the girls' gym into a Japanese wonderland with pagodas and giant-sized dragons. Carrying out the circus effect of "Under the Big Top" with a parachute ceiling from which multi-colored crepe-paper streamers hung, the Junior-Senior Prom drew the largest attendance in many years.

Aside from social festivities April made ready for the appearance of spring with the track pep rally. Scots were privileged to hear the University of Texas choir as it stopped in Dallas on its tour.

Initiations for new members of the National Honor Society and the Quill and Scroll were held.

King Billy Hightower reigns supremely over the Hi-Lite Dance.

May brought many surprises and much excitement to Hi Park as the school year came to a close.

The new Hi-Lite officers were revealed to the girls at the annual Hi-Lite banquet. Next year's spring sports captains were announced at the spring sports banquet. At the baseball banquet the diamonds men learned who would lead their team next year.

The highlight of the year was the Honors Day assembly, where Kay McElheny and Andy Small were presented with the Blanket Awards. Kay was also named as valedictorian and recipient of the Eta Sigma Phi Latin Award.

Salutatorian Thomas Cotton received the English Award and the Mathematics and Science Award. The Stanton Gage Art Award went to Judy Merrill and Susan Peacock. John Niles and Kay were announced as National Merit Scholars in the spring.

While underclassmen studied for their final exams, seniors ended their high school days with baccalaureate, commencement, and graduation parties. At the Senior Picnic the long-awaited 1961 Highlanders were distributed to the senior class.

Janie Clinton, accompanied by the girls' chorus, "washes that man right out of her hair."

Shrunkened heads and waving palms contributed to the atmosphere of an enchanted South Sea island as the Lads and Lassies, the orchestra, and the art department presented Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific."

Directed by Miss Flora Lee Pope and choreographed by Ann Lorch, the production was climaxed by a standing ovation, rewarding cast and crew for months of hard work and anticipation.

Attending the performances were members of the "South Pacific" cast of Whitehaven High School, Memphis, Tennessee. Having presented "South Pacific" earlier this year, they were anxious to see another school's version of the romantic musical.

Starring in the production were Janie Clinton as Nellie Forbush and Larry Smith as Emile. Also featured were Mary Glen Joy as Liat and Jerry Clark as Luther Billis.

The Luther Billis of Whitehaven High School looks sympathetic as Jerry Clark rides at anchor.

Larry Smith sings "Some Enchanted Evening" to an enraptured audience.

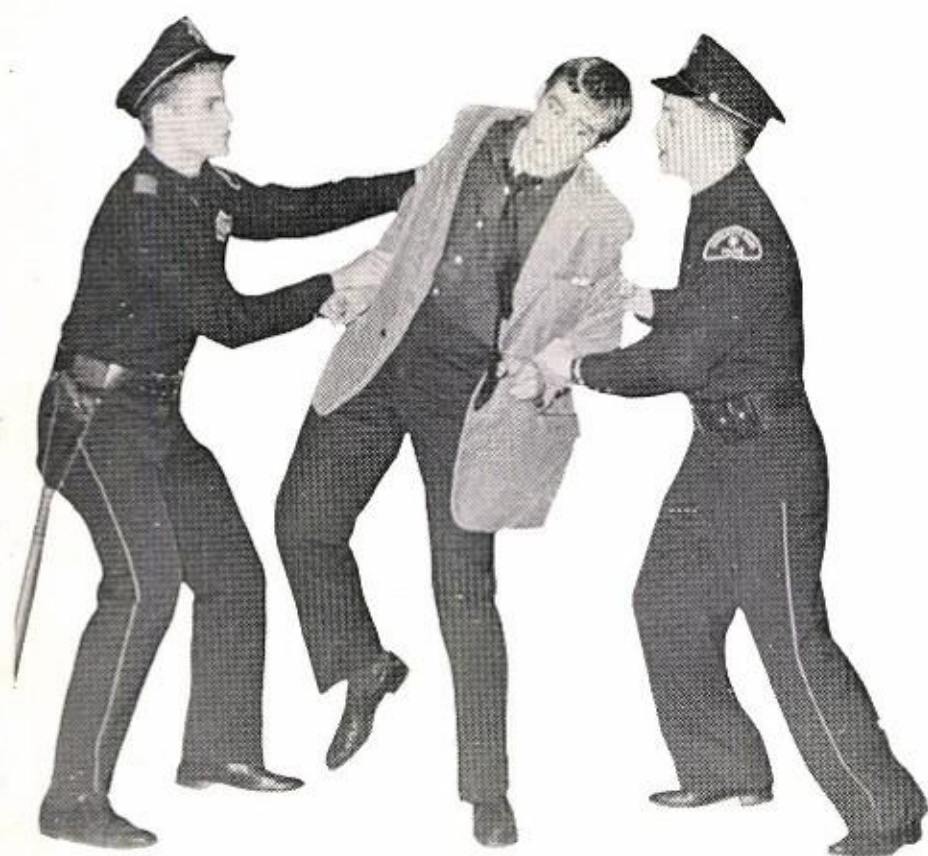

Spring Productions Merit Standing Ovations

Jerry Clark argues fiercely with Bill Devereux as Pam Thompson and Marianne Hughes watch anxiously.

Enraged maniac Bill Devereux fights with policemen Corky Barton and Glenn Norman.

"A glass of elderberry wine, a teaspoon of arsenic, and just a pinch of cyanide." This was the recipe used by the sweet old Brewster sisters, Abby and Martha, in their campaign to save old gentlemen from loneliness.

The senior play evolved around this zany plot. Starring as Abby and Martha were Marianne Hughes and Karen Littell. Their crazy but gentle nephew Teddy was portrayed by Larry Smith while a more violent maniac nephew was Jonathon (Bill Devereux). The only sane member of the Brewster family was Mortimer (Jerry Clark).

Other major characters were Mortimer's girl friend (Pam Thompson), her father (John Niles), and Dr. Herman Einstein (Dick Downs).

Faculty director Miss Molly Riley was assisted by student director Kathy Hammer. In charge of directing all behind-the-stage activities was stage manager Dee Johnson. Sets were designed by the art department.

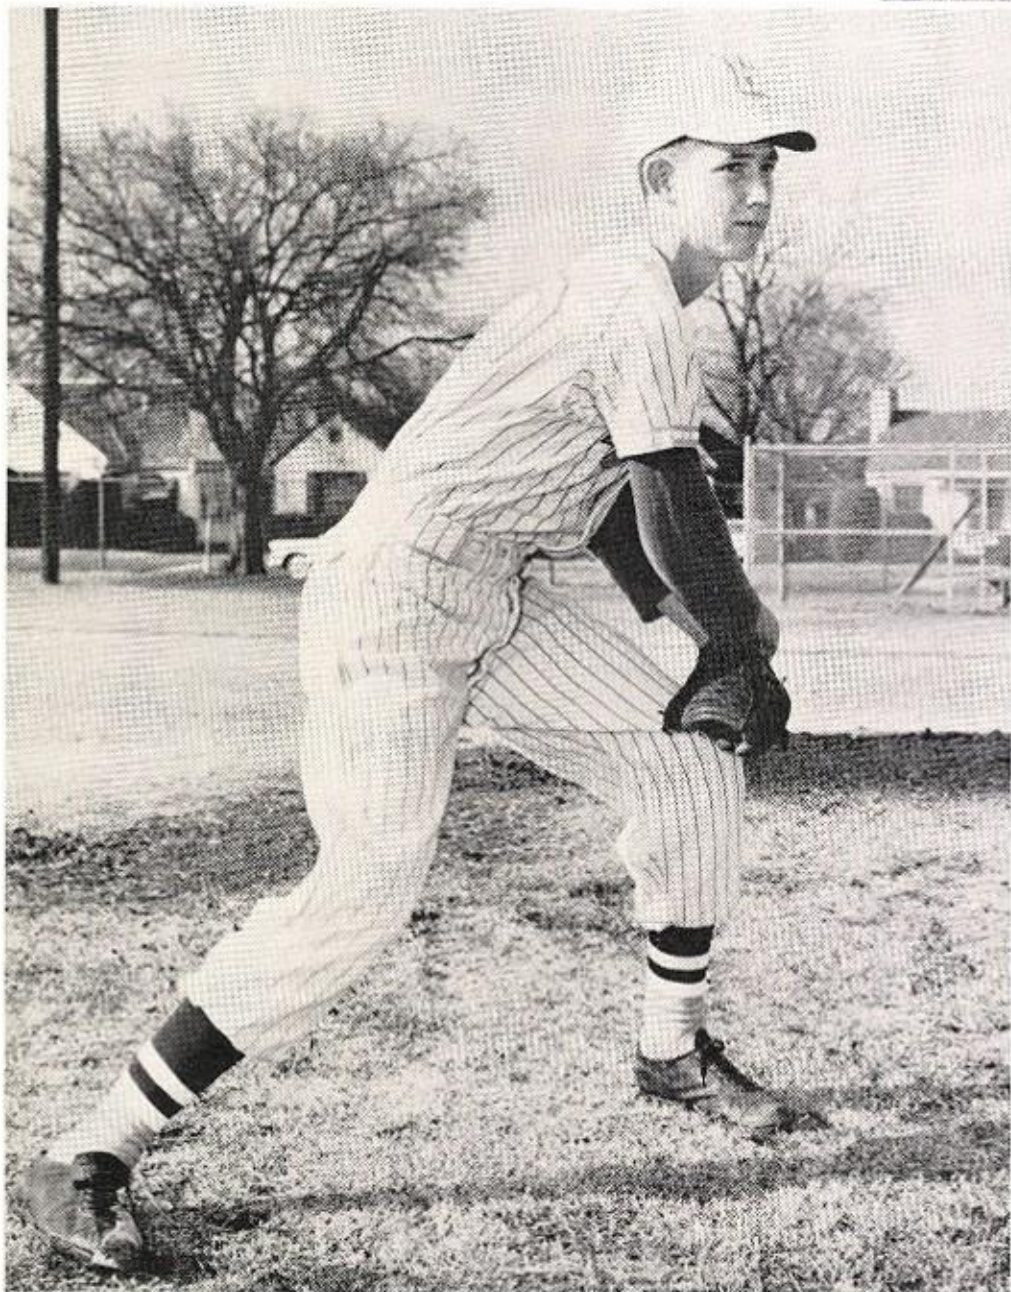

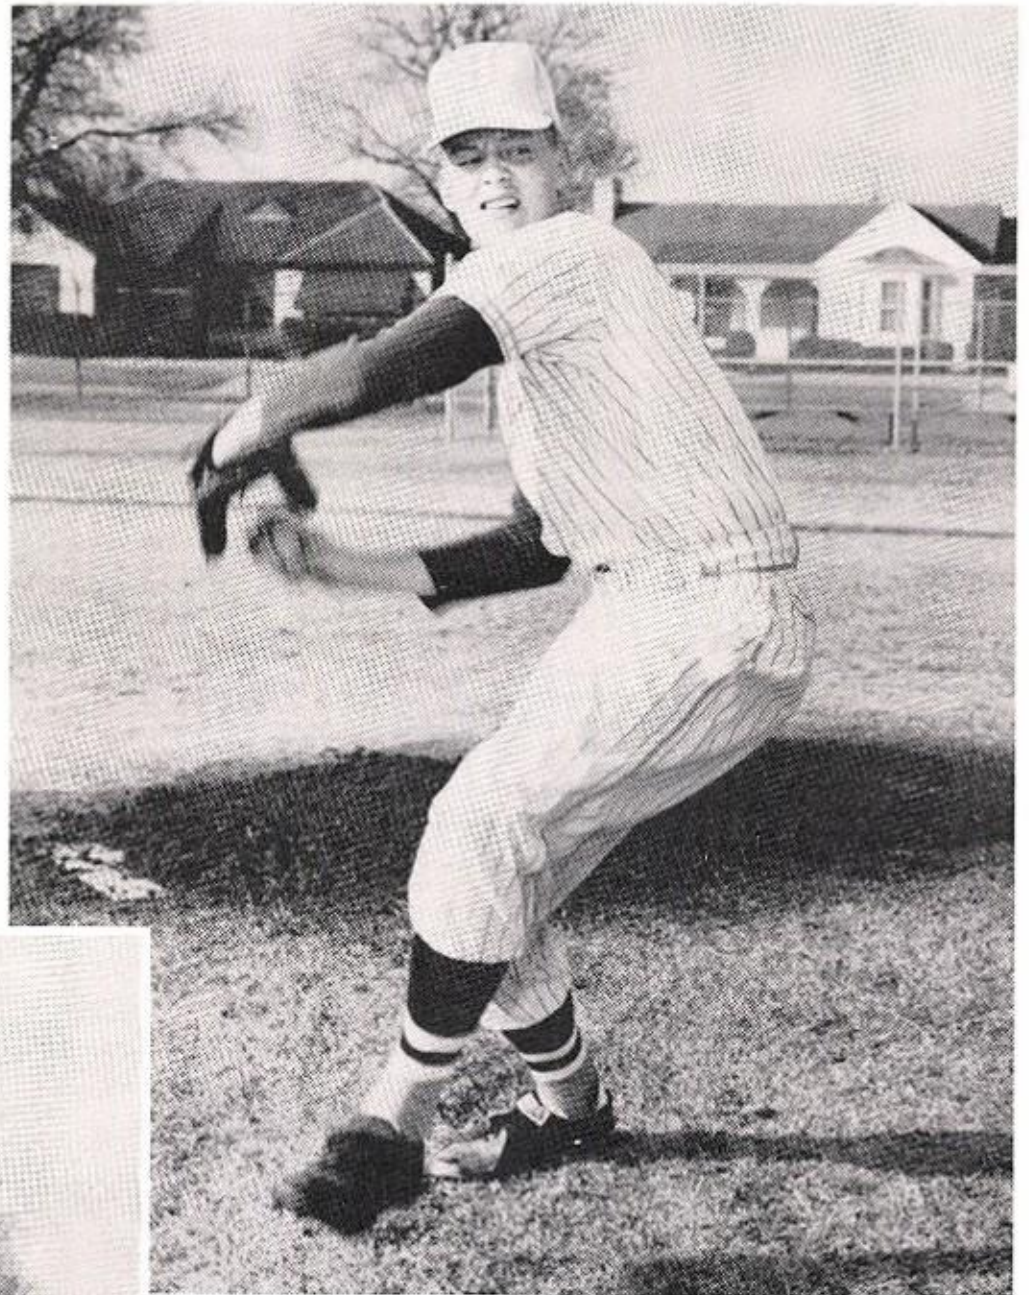

First Place District Tie Boasted by Scots

Exhibiting his skill as a pitcher is co-captain Ronnie Siler.

A first place tie and a shot in the district playoff game with the Denton Broncs climaxed the Scot baseball season. Hi Park's moundsmen finished the season boasting a 7-1 district record.

Paced by the outstanding pitching of co-captains Danny Thomas and newcomer Reagan Dixon, and by the timely hitting of Bill Carlisle, Mike Crain, Jim Holton, Rick Nesbit, and co-captain Ronnie Siler, the Scots won over Denton, Garland, Sherman, and Denison.

Now the stage was set for the crucial game with Denton to decide the district championship. Here the Scots were edged 1-0 by the determined Denton nine. Upon defeating Denison 2-0 Scots deadlocked the race, and a playoff at Armstrong Field resulted. The Scots went down to the Broncos 4-2.

Scot sprinters Earl Patrick, Bridges Ballowe, Mickey Hudnall, and John Paul Shoptaw hope for victory at the state meet.

Sprinters Take District, Race to Regional

Spirited Hi Park cindermen led by Eric Rosoff and Bridges Ballowe, co-captains, again took first place in district, the fourteenth win in fifteen years for Scot track coach, Floyd Hightower.

Previous to the district meet the Scots gained valuable experience by participating in the Kimball Relays, the Cow Town Relays, Irving Air Lanes Relays, and the East Texas Relays.

Scot sprinters took first at the district meet with an outstanding total of one hundred and ninety points. The first place ribbons for the broad jump and the 100-yard dash were taken by Bridges Ballowe. John Paul Shoptaw's second place in the 220 and Craig Bartlett's win in the low hurdle also helped the Scots triumph in the district meet.

The Scots then invaded Ownby Stadium for the Regional AAAA Track Meet. Four Scots, Mickey Hudnall, Earl Patrick, Eric Rosoff and Bridges Ballowe, earned the right to go to the State Meet at Austin, where they took fifth place.

Hi Park's record-breaking swimming team has, for the fourth time in eight years, copped the coveted state championship crown.

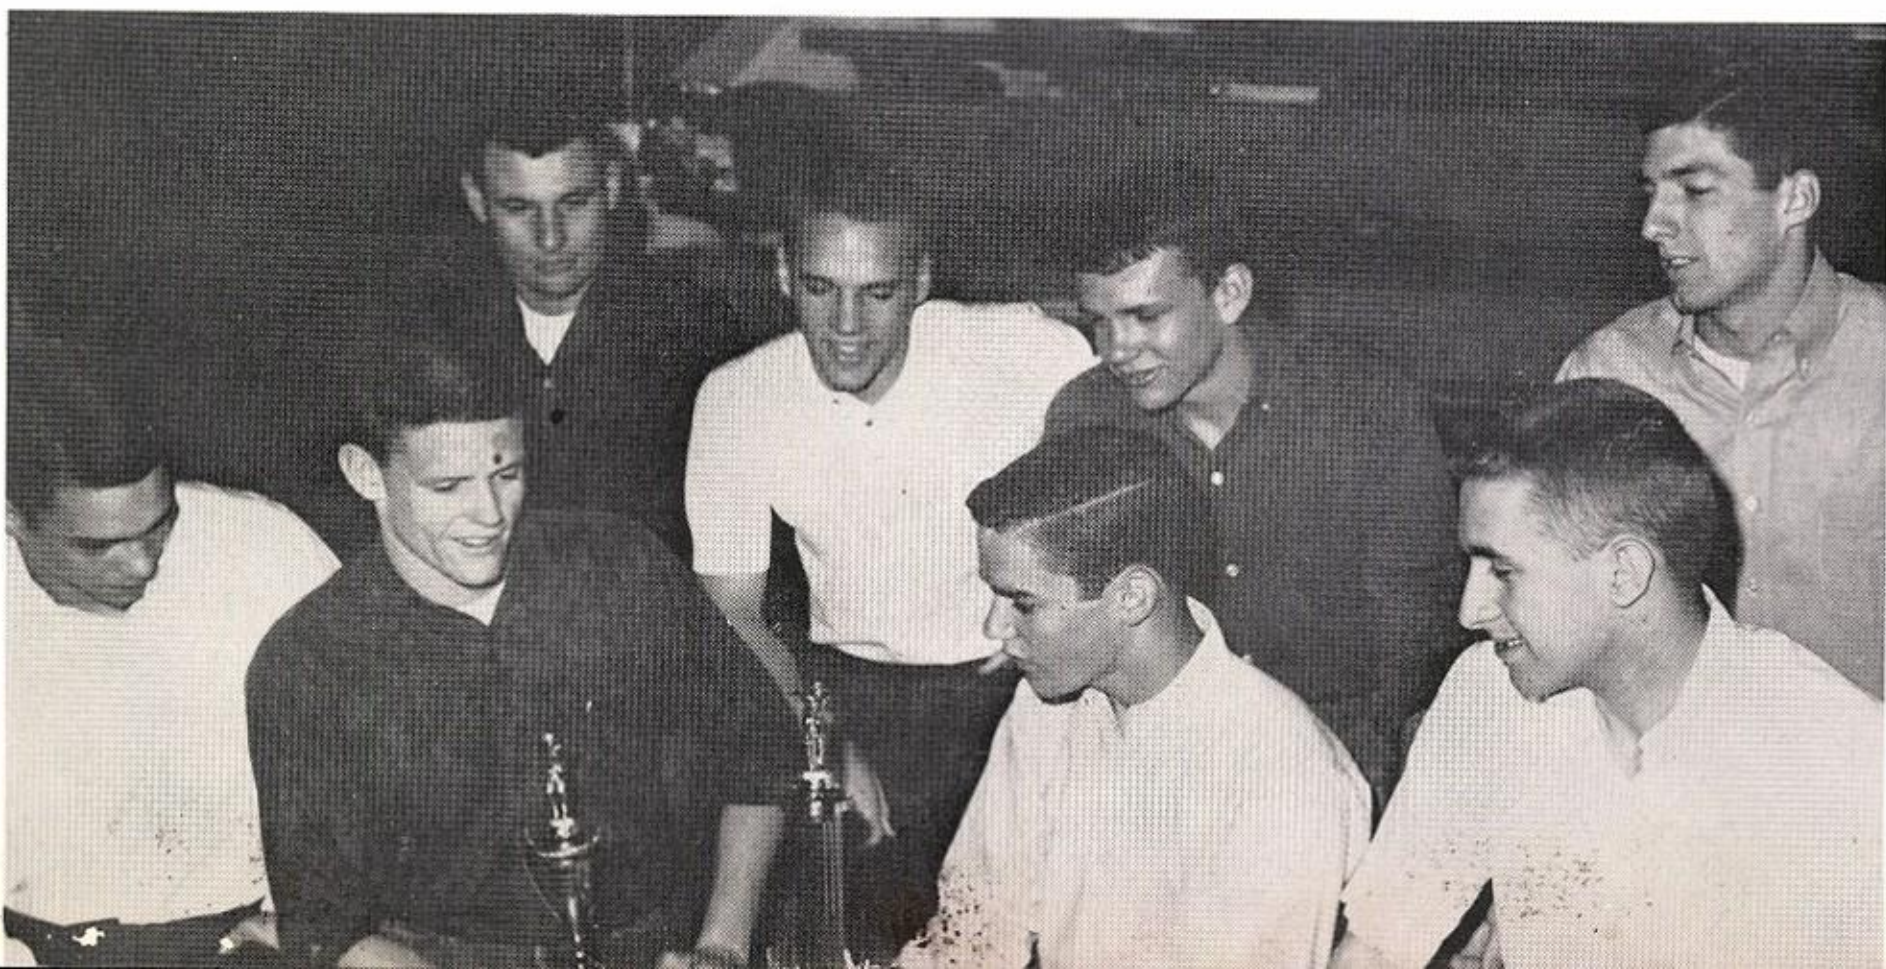

Led by co-captains Richard Quick and Billy Hightower, and under the able direction of Coach Jerry Culp, the Scots prepared for the state meet by dual meet victories over the Texas, Corpus Christi, and S.M.U. freshmen. The tankers also defeated Wichita Falls and Paschal High Schools, and made good showings in the Southwestern AAU and Texas University Invitational Meets.

Completing their preparation for the state meet, the Scots journeyed to College Station. Here paced by record-shattering performances of Billy Hightower, Jim Holton, Mike McKinlay, Rick Nesbit, Richard and David Quick, and Buzzy Waters, the Highlanders romped to an 83-60 victory over the second-place team, Houston Lamar.

Other honors earned by Scot swimmers are six national high school records and one American record. The team also boasts five All-American and nine All-State swimmers.

Girls' Doubles Champs Journey to State

Scot linksmen, led by able co-captains Jeff Voss and Tracy Taylor, made good showings in tournaments at Galveston, Fort Worth, and Houston. Bolstered by lettermen Jim Crowley, Bob McCorkle, and promising soph Ronnie Neiman, the Scots placed fourth in the district golf race.

The 1961 Scot netters journeyed to Denton for the District 7-AAAAA tennis tournament. At Denton the tennis wizards took the district crown by winning every event. Paul Stotts, Harvey Davis, Diane Andrews, Virginia Davis and Becky Gould proceeded to regional, where Virginia and Becky qualified for the state meet. At state they lost their doubles match to a team from Edinburgh which later won the state championship.

Dear Mimi,
You poor dear, a senior
next year. How tragic!
Well, good luck to real sweet girl; no matter if you're a senior.

Sincerely,

Clyde Bardwell

Mimi,
I hope you was a senior in the 1940s. I could have forgot that since with every decade since
